Strikers Remain Defiant

Next Move After Gas Company's Seizure Up to Governor; Breakdowns Increase

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — The state of Missouri late yesterday seized the Laclede Gas Co. to end a strike that has disrupted natural gas service in the St. Louis area but defiant strikers refused to return to work.

The next move appeared to be up to Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, who declined to say which of several possible courses of action he might take.

Donnelly said Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton's office was preparing the papers for possible legal action. He said he didn't know whether the suits would be filed today or where they would be filed.

Under the law, an injunction action could be brought to enforce state seizure and civil suits could be filed to collect the heavy penalties imposed on strike leaders.

The breakdowns in natural gas service, attributed by the utility to vandalism, continued to mount and an estimated 10,000 residents had been affected. The union has denied responsibility for the service breakdowns.

Shortly before midnight Loda Marty, 60, Superintendent for the gas company, and patrolman Charles Bezeley, 38, were burned when a 440-volt electric line shorted as they were investigating an apparent case of vandalism at a Laclede plant.

They were taken to City Hospital where Marty's condition was described as serious. The patrolman was released after treatment.

Gov. Donnelly's desk in Jefferson City late yesterday was piled high with law books and the governor told newsmen he had been studying the law on injunctions.

A section of Missouri's King-Thompson law prohibiting strikes in public utilities—the act under which the state seizure was made—provides for the use of injunction suits to enforce state seizure.

Another section of the law provides for stiff fines against a defiant union, collectible through a civil suit, and loss of seniority for defiant workers.

The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, representing the 2,200 workers who went on strike last Sunday in a complex dispute in which wages are not the major issue, denounced the King-Thompson law as unconstitutional.

"We believe Laclede has failed to negotiate with us in good faith because it prefers to try to wreck the union with the King-Thompson law," the union said in a statement.

"A similar state law in Wisconsin has been declared unconstitutional if ever brought to a test in the courts."

Talks between company and union officials, arranged by federal conciliators, were adjourned at 9 p. m. yesterday until noon today.

Youth Dies After Gun Accident With Buddy

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — A 19-year-old Illinois youth died at Missouri Baptist Hospital here today less than four hours after he was accidentally shot in the head by a friend who was demonstrating commando tactics.

The victim was Glen Crosnoe, son of Mrs. Pearl Crosnoe of East Alton.

Police, who termed the shooting accidental, said the incident occurred in front of the home of Don Barry, 19, also of East Alton. Barry was admitted to the Wood River Hospital suffering from shock.

Reasons Come Easy

In between all the shoppers downtown these days you can spot quite a few office staffers who managed to find some excuse for getting out in this grand weather.

Generally fair tonight and Saturday; low tonight in upper 60s; high Saturday in lower 90s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 71; 87 at 1 p. m. and 88 at 2 p. m. Low Thursday night 65.

The temperature one year ago today, high 90, low 68, with .98 inch of rain; two years ago, high 101, low 70; and three years ago, high 99, low 70, with 2.8 inch of rain.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks $1.3, rise .40.

Hickman Mills Man Is Held In Auto Theft

Wild Car Chase Ends As Pursued Crashes School Steps

Jim Bowman, 30, Hickman Mill, tried to outrun the Sedalia police about 3:35 a. m. Friday in a stolen car. Officers began their chase of Bowman at the junction of Highway 65 and 50 when they heard the car coming at a high rate of speed. They followed him to Broadway and Grand, where Bowman turned south onto Grand.

At Ninth and Grand the car turned east on Ninth, where officers reported that his car speed reached 80 miles an hour. Bowman continued up Ninth, with officers following closely, until he reached the Smith-Cotton High School, where he missed turning at the dead-end street and crashed into the west steps of the school. The car bounced back into the street, Massachusetts.

At the time the policemen were investigating Bowman, the Sedalia police department was receiving an item of the stolen car driven by him, via police radio.

Bowman was taken to the police station, where he denied the theft of the car. The car, a 1951 green Buick sedan, was stolen from the home of Floyd H. Mezeur, Kansas City, early Friday morning.

Officers Jim Clifford and Charles Knapp made the arrest of Bowman after the wild chase through Sedalia streets.

Bowman was booked in the police station with the possession of a stolen car. Kansas City police are expected to pick him up here today. He is presently in the city jail.

The car was badly wrecked on the underside, transmission and front end. The interior of the car was shaken loose from the chassis.

The Buick was towed to Bacon's Service Station by the Bacon wrecker.

Hearing on St. Louis Rowdiness Is Begun

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — A two-day hearing on an upsurge in youthful rowdiness in the St. Louis area opens today before Sen. Jennings (D-Mo.) of the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

Invited to appear were social workers, professors, churchmen, newspapermen, police and school officials.

A function of the subcommittee which has conducted hearings in other cities, is to dig up conditions which contribute to delinquency and to decide whether federal legislation is necessary.

Joins Ike in Fight—

NEA Girds for Fresh Bout On Federal Aid of Schools

PORTLAND, Ore. — Smarting at defeat of federal school building aid, the National Education Assn. girded today for a fresh attempt to gain passage of the bill in the next Congress.

The NEA entered the final day of its convention here with the prospect of a floor fight over one proposed resolution on a discrimination issue, but another bearing on school segregation apparently had been sidetracked.

Federal school construction aid, defeated in the House yesterday, has for years been a top NEA objective.

James L. McCaskill, director of the NEA legislative division, its lobbying arm, expressed disappointment at defeat of the measure at a time when it seemed the closest it has ever been to passage, but said the NEA would "move quickly" on it in the new Congress next January.

He said his office would not expand its staff but that "we believe more people over the country now support the federal aid idea than ever before, and we intend to capitalize on this . . . We will certainly bring it to the attention of members of Congress."

"At least we know now who our

Speaks on Red Halt—

Nixon Speaks to South Viet Nam Constituent Assembly

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — Vice President Richard Nixon told the Vietnamese Constituent Assembly today that "although our country is divided the militant march of communism has been halted."

The U. S. vice president arrived here from Manila on an official visit. He addressed the Assembly after a talk with President Ngo Dinh Diem.

He brought a personal message for Diem from President Eisenhower saying that the American people greatly admired Viet Nam's progress toward constitutional government.

"I am proud," said the President's message, "that the government and the people of the United States have been able to contribute to your successful efforts to restore stability and security to your country, and to lay a solid basis for social and economic reconstruction."

Nixon told the assembly that "behind the enlightened leadership of your President, Viet Nam for the first time can look forward to achieving her rightful place among the free nations of the world."

"You may be sure," he added, "that you will have the warm support and admiration of the American people."

At the airport he described the young republic as a "symbol of independence for all people to respect."

A cheering crowd of 7,000 persons jostled under the hot tropical sun to catch a glimpse of the U. S. official and his wife at Saigon's airport. The Nixons flew here from Manila.

Nixon reviewed an honor guard and then made a brief speech at the airport. Official welcomes included Foreign Minister Vu Van Mau, other Cabinet members and the diplomatic corps headed by U. S. Ambassador G. Frederick Reinhardt.

After less than five minutes on the ground here the vice president had learned to say "Hello, how are you?" in Vietnamese.

The Nixons went directly from the airport to the home of the American ambassador for lunch. Thousands of Vietnamese schoolchildren lined the boulevards leading into the city. They waved tiny American and Vietnamese flags. Hundreds of banners were strung across the streets.

The vice president's visit comes just two weeks before the expiration of the deadline set by the Geneva conference for elections to unite this country, split in two by the Indochina armistice agreement two years ago.

President Ngo Dinh Diem has refused to agree to holding the elections on the grounds they would not be free in the Communist northern half of the country. The United States has backed Diem's position, and it was expected that Nixon would reaffirm that stand while here.

David Lewis and Raymond M. Batson, members of the Rocky Mountain rescue group, were dropped off on the ridge yesterday as seven newsmen watched from across the canyon. One miscalculation during the landing might have meant a crash into the bank of the river 1,100 feet below.

Capt. Walter Spriggs of Smackover, Ark., pilot of the helicopter, said the breeze was ideal, but admitted he was wary of the wind swirling out of crevices in the canyon. "That disturbs our blood," he said after the risky flight.

United Air Lines reported that Lewis and Batson collected the bodies of seven victims. The two climbers spent the night on the tiny ledge.

Wreckage brought out from the DC7 crash site appeared to strengthen the commonly held belief that the two planes had collided in flight.

Tells Defense Group To Quit 'Squabbling'

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House Appropriations Committee told the Defense Department today to quit intraservice "squabbling" over air defenses, commenting that "the taxpayer will be the principal loser in such a quarrel."

It directed the department to take "immediate steps" to have a committee of qualified independent experts evaluate the merits and potentialities of the Talos and Nike missiles as air defense weapons.

Will Start Sign-up In New Soil Bank Program on Monday

Arrangements have been completed to start the sign-up on the new farm program (soil bank) on Monday, July 9. All signing must be done at the county ASC office at 209½ South Ohio in Sedalia. It must be completed by Friday, July 20.

There are over 2,000 farmers in Pettis County. All of them get to the office, during those ten working days it will mean an average of 200 per day. Folks actually interested in getting signed up should try to come in fairly early in the sign-up period and avoid the rush at the end.

The Pettis County ASC Committee will be in the county office July 9 through July 20 to assist and advise farmers in getting signed up in this new soil bank program.

Out-of-Town Pupils May Register Now At Smith-Cotton

Any out-of-town students entering Smith-Cotton High School may register at any time now. The office is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. during weekdays and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

This does not apply to Sedalia students who attended school here last year because they are already and automatically enrolled in high school.

Asks Ouster Of Mendle As Chairman

Bromwich Wires GOP of Disruption From Appointment

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Elroy W. Bromwich, newly-elected Republican national committeeman for Missouri, today called for national leaders to "reconsider and withdraw" the appointment of Maurice E. Mendle as state chairman of the Citizens - for - Eisenhower Committee.

Bromwich said in a telegram to Brig. Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick (ret.) of New York, head of the national Eisenhower organization, that Mendle's appointment was "disrupting" efforts to restore harmony and unity in the state party organization.

Bromwich earlier called the appointment of Mendle, St. Louis printing firm executive, "unfortunate and unsatisfactory."

The national committeeman denied he had been consulted by Kilpatrick or any other leader of the national Citizens - for - Eisenhower organization on the Missouri appointment.

He said the dispute over Mendle was not a matter of personalities, noting that Mendle had been a "hard worker for the party" but that appointment without approval of regular party leaders had shaken harmony.

State Chairman Perry Compton of Montgomery City warmly praised Mendle and said "I expect to co-operate with him fully."

Rep. Curtis (R-Mo.) in Washington joined Bromwich in opposing the selection of Mendle, considered by some Republican leaders as an associate of Barak T. Mattingly, a faction leader and former national committeeman.

Edmund T. Allen, member of the budget committee of the United Republican Finance Committee, described the selection of Mendle as "the best appointment that could have been made."

"I know Bromwich well and I don't understand his position on this," Allen said.

Arthur K. Atkinson, Wabash Railroad president and head of the new United Republican fund group, declined to take sides but praised Mendle's work in organizing outstate Salute-to-Eisenhower dinners.

Bromwich said: "I pledged the state convention which elected me that party affairs would be conducted through elected party officials. I stand on that." Bromwich said he was not consulted on the Mendle appointment.

Van Wagner Agency Will Move Its Office

The Van Wagner Agency will soon move its office to 111 West Fourth, occupying the office previously used by Dr. Floyd Lively, optometrist, who has opened a clinic in a new building at Seventh and Osage. The office on West Fourth is being remodeled by the Van Wagners and will be ready for occupancy within a short time.

Kidnaper Calls Weinberger To Say Baby Is Alive, Well

Father Replies He Is Prepared To Pay Ransom

SCENE OF KIDNAPING—Four-week-old Peter Weinberger was abducted from this baby carriage on the patio of his parents' home in Westbury, N. Y. The kidnaper directed the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, to pay $2000 ransom for the return of the infant. (NEA Telephoto)

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—A person believed to be the kidnaper of month-old Peter Weinberger telephoned the parents' home today, saying the baby was alive and well. Morris Weinberger, the child's father, told the caller he was prepared to meet a ransom demand.

Weinberger said the call came at 9:40 a. m. and that he told the caller:

"Am ready to meet your demand, awaiting your call."

It was not made clear just why the response was worded in such fashion, and Weinberger revealed little else about the conversation, or whether he would seek to make a private effort to get the baby back.

Police have said they could not legally pull out of the case, but that their prime concern is the safety of the baby and they would do anything possible in this connection.

Weinberger's son was taken from a carriage at the back of their fashionable home here Wednesday afternoon while the mother had stepped into the house a moment.

A note was left, demanding the $2,000 ransom.

Police baited a trap for the kidnaper yesterday with packages supposedly containing ransom money but mostly containing paper in bill size.

However, no one showed up to try to take either of two packages placed at spots in the vicinity of the Weinberger home.

Police refused to say after this morning's phone call to Weinberger's home whether they would step out of the case long enough for the family to make a private effort at getting the baby back.

The only other information given out by Weinberger was that the caller would be watching afternoon papers. Weinberger did not indicate what was meant by this.

Earlier the distraught parents of the 34-day-old child publicly pledged to pay real ransom money or do anything to obtain a release of the sandy haired, blue-eyed tot.

Weinberger, a prosperous wholesale drug salesman whose handsome brick and clapboard ranch home is located in a Long Island suburb, said he had the cash ready to turn over to the kidnaper.

Votes to Chop Hunk from Ike's Foreign Program

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House Appropriations Committee voted today to chop $14,055,000 out of President Eisenhower's five-billion-dollar foreign aid money request for this year.

The 28 per cent slash, applying mostly to proposed arms aid for free world countries, went 300 million dollars deeper than previously voted House cuts which Eisenhower said would "seriously impair" U. S. and free world security.

Those cuts were made by the House in an authorization bill setting a ceiling on the program. The new measure, subject to House and Senate changes, would provide the actual money.

The committee approval of a $3,665,920,000 bill marked a sharp setback to strenuous administration efforts to win congressional passage of nearly the full amount Eisenhower sought.

The committee voted also a "thorough investigation" of foreign aid, saying there has been vagueness and a lack of information about the program.

Offers New Engineer Degree for Four Years

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The University of Kansas City announced today that beginning this fall it will offer a 4-year course leading to the bachelor of science degree in engineering.

Acting Chancellor Richard M. Drake said the course, formulated by Dr. Earl McGrath, former chancellor, and representatives of local engineering societies will be the only such course available in Kansas City.

Approves New State Department Plans

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House Appropriations Committee today approved a $44,920,000 outlay during the next 12 months for constructing a new State Department building here.

The estimated cost of the building is $57,400,000. The committee said the additional funds would not be needed this fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

The committee said the new structure would house departmental operations now spread in 29 separate buildings and this would save the taxpayers an estimated $2,116,041 annually.

Israel Denies Massing Men Along Border

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel again has denied any massing of troops along her Arab borders and charged that reports of such action are designed to cover Arab military movements.

Walter Eytan, the director general of the Israeli Foreign Ministry, last night called in the envoys of the United States, Britain, France and Russia to issue the latest denial.

The reports of Israeli troop concentrations along the Israel-Jordan border have come from a number of Arab capitals in the past two days.

Terming the accounts of Israeli troop movements fictitious, Eytan charged the Arab states had made "a concentrated war propaganda effort . . . based on spurious allegations of Israeli troop concentrations."

Reports from Arab Jerusalem said the Jordan army was being reinforced along the Jordan-Israeli armistice line.

A U.N. truce organization spokesman announced, however, there were no confirmed troop concentrations anywhere along the Israel-Arab armistice lines. He added that neither the Arabs nor Israel had complained to the U.N. about any such concentrations.

In Damascus, meanwhile, a move toward a federal union of Egypt and Syria was given a unanimous go-ahead by Syria's Parliament.

The action brought an immediate expression of hope from Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser that it would be the first step for a "union including all Arab states."

The Syrian Parliament put its stamp of approval on plans to set up a committee to negotiate with Egypt on the union.

Egypt and Syria already are bound together in a military alliance.

May Try Juveniles As Adults for Rape

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Four juveniles may be tried as adults in the alleged rape last week of a 13-year-old girl in O'Fallon Park here. The death penalty is possible under a rape charge.

Circuit Judge Waldo C. Mayfield, sitting in Juvenile Court, yesterday certified the four juveniles to Circuit Court as eligible for trial as adults. Three other youths previously had been charged as adults in the case.

Juvenile charges against the four younger boys were dismissed by Judge Mayfield, and their cases will be presented to a Circuit Court grand jury.

The four juveniles are Robert John Jansen, 16; William Rowberry, 16; Donald R. Wagner, 16, and John Ronald Darr, 15.

Bond for Jansen was set at $15,000, and for the other three was set at $20,000.

Fires

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Berkenbile northwest of Tipton Sunday morning.

A quantity of feed, hay and many articles stored in the barn was lost as well as one heifer calf.

Due to the direction of the wind, the dairy barn nearby was not damaged.

Accidents

A small girl was slightly injured in an accident at Second and Missouri about 9:10 a.m. Thursday. Injured was Susan Holden, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Holden, Route 3, who was riding with her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Holden, driving a 1950 Ford sedan, which collided with another car in the intersection of Second and Missouri. Mrs. Nellie Burton, Hughesville, was the driver of the other car, a 1947 Chrysler sedan.

The accident occurred as Mrs. Holden was headed east on Second and Mr. Burton was headed south on Missouri.

The daughter of Mrs. Holden, Susan, was taken to Bothwell Hospital in a police car where it was learned she had an abrasion under the chin and a cut inside the lower lip. She was treated by Dr. Gordon Stauffacher.

Damages to the car of Mrs. Holden were to the left front, grill, and the right front fender. Mrs. Burton's car was damaged on the right front side and the right door.

The Howerton wrecker towed the Ford from the accident scene, while the car of Mrs. Burton could be driven.

Police investigated the accident.

Brothers Buy Family Unusual Playthings

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The eight children of brothers William and James Bolles of Indianapolis wanted a fire truck. So, the brothers bought them one—a real 1921 Stutz hook and ladder truck.

"There's no telling what those two will bring home next," said grandfather William R. Bolles, vice president of Hoosier Veneer Co.

"We've always felt that by giving our children what they want, we could keep them home."

given ten days in the city jail after pleading guilty.

Otis N. Radford, 21, Beatrice, Neb., charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was fined $25 and given ten days in the city jail after pleading guilty.

Lindsay and Evans Poultry Co., La Monte, charged with parking a truck over 1½ tons in a residential district, forfeited a $2 bond.

The Bank Rush On Saturdays

On Saturdays, Sedalia banks close at noon. A day's activity is packed into three hours. Anyone who has stood in line to make a deposit or cash a check on Saturday morning can vouch for that.

This last minute rush to get bank service could be minimized by a little cooperative planning on the part of some of those caught in the Saturday traffic jam.

Mostly Saturday morning deposits are from business houses whose representatives bring large amounts of money and checks to the tellers' windows. These naturally should be given priority because no store proprietor wants to keep a big deposit on hand over the week end. To check in one of these accounts takes time when there are a hundred of them, or more, during the limited bank hours of Saturday morning. These depositors make out their own deposit slips before they bring their money to the bank.

In these waiting lines there frequently may be found someone who wants to change a five or ten dollar bill, or make a small deposit. That is their privilege, but usually these individuals are in a great big hurry. More often than not either could have transacted their business the day before and avoided the Saturday rush hours, especially the depositor who stands in line and gripes to high heaven because the line doesn't move faster. Then when he or she comes to the window the teller has to make out that person's deposit slip. This is a delaying factor. Making out deposit slips is not the teller's job. There are counters in the lobby equipped with pens and blank deposit slips for use of the bank customer.

Sedalia bank tellers have been very courteous about making out deposit slips, but it is certainly irritating to other customers in a long waiting line when an individual fails to make out his own slip which he is supposed to do.

Then, too, we often wonder why more business houses don't use the night depository box on the outside of the Sedalia banks rather than stand in line for fifteen minutes or more every Saturday to make an over-the-counter deposit.

Those who have minimum bank business to transact may keep their blood pressure down by transacting that business on some other day than Saturday. This would also be an accommodation to our farmer friends who should have the right-of-way on Saturday in our Sedalia banks.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Solons Hush Up Cost of Oversea Junkets

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Most guarded secret since the H-bomb is how much it cost the taxpayers for last year's congressional globe-trotting. Only a few men know the score, and they aren't telling.

The tabs are still coming in from over 230 senators and congressmen who flocked overseas in the biggest junketing spree in congressional history. The taxpayers who footed the bill, however, can't find out the total cost.

However, this column has been able to check the secret vouchers turned in by congressmen, and here are some of the amounts spent. It should be noted, in fairness, that some of the congressional trips were important and some congressmen did a good job for their country. Some, on the other hand, were pure joyrides. In either case, the public is entitled to know the cost. Here it is:

The taxpayers paid $51,000 for a special Air Force plane to fly Congressman Sterling Cole (R., N.Y.), O. C. Fisher (D., Tex.), George Miller (D., Calif.), Walt Norblad (R., Ore.), and Bill Bates (R., Mass.) around the world. The Air Force escort officer spent another $10,000 of the taxpayers' money on the congressmen for travel expenses. Fisher also took a private $300 side trip in Indonesia.

These basic costs do not include the foreign currency that is laded out to junketing congressmen for spending money. All they need is a requisition signed by a committee chairman. This is good for free spending money at our embassies in 42 countries.

The foreign currency is taken from Special Account No. 19 FT 561, which is set aside for the exclusive use of traveling congressmen. They spend the money by the bushel basket for hotels, meals, entertainment, night clubs, souvenirs, and whatever suits their fancy. No accounting is asked and none given except for vague totals.

Special Airplanes

The secret voyagers also do not include the free rides congressmen were given on Air Force planes and Navy ships that were going their way anyhow. By Congress' curious book-keeping, these free rides cost the taxpayers nothing, since the planes and ships didn't go out of the way.

What isn't mentioned is that the lawmakers usually displace military passengers. For example, a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee, including wives and aides, displaced 40 military wives and children booked to join their menfolk in Europe last September.

Leaving out the free spending money and free rides, here's what it cost the taxpayers for some further congressional trips. In many cases, these trips were good investments, since the congressmen worked hard studying foreign problems and spreading good will. Most of them simply had a lavish overseas holiday, however at the taxpayers' expense.

It cost $41,670 for a special plane to fly Congressman Clem Zablocki (D., Wis.), John Jarman (D., Okla.), Bob Byrd (D., W. Va.), Ross Adair (R., Ind.), and Marguerite Church (R., Ill.), round the world.

Another special plane to Europe cost $21,638 for Congressmen W. R. Poage (D., Tex.), Hale Boggs (D., La.), Harold Cooley (D., N.C.), Henry Talle (R., Ia.), and Antoni Sadlak (R., Conn.) Sadlak took his son along, and Sen. Willis Robertson (D., Va.) arranged for his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willis Robertson, Jr., to make the trip.

This trip was to visit the Inter-Parliamentary Union, attendance at which is required by law. It can be classified as one of the more worthwhile junkets.

Congressman Poage and his wife organized another junket to South America which cost the taxpayers $18,915 for transportation. Included in the party was Congressman Paul Jones (D., Mo.) and his wife. Still another South American junket for Congressmen Porter Hardy (D., Va.), Jack Brooks (D., Tex.), George Meader (R., Mich.), and Victor Knox (R., Mich.), cost $20,998.

Special Side Trips

Congressmen John Rooney (D., N.Y.) and John Cogarty (D., R.I.), accompanied by their wives, took scheduled military transportation cost: $13,372.

Several congressmen, traveling alone or with wives, took scheduled military transportation overseas, then demanded special transportation after they got there. Here are the bills for extra transportation in several typical cases:

Rep. and Mrs. Errett Scrivner (R., Kan.), Europe and North Africa, $2,201; Rep. and Mrs. L. Mendel Rivers (D., S.C.), and their daughter, Peggy, Europe, $1,123; Rep. and Mrs. Bill Hess R., Ohio, Europe, $4,367; Rep. and Mrs. Dan Flood (D., Pa.), Europe, $4,050; Rep. James Patterson (R., Conn.), Far East, $2,100; Rep. Olin Teague (D., Tex.), Europe, $2,500; Rep. and Mrs. Charles Nelson, (R., Mo.), Europe, $1,850; Rep. and Mrs. Charles Halleck (R., Ind.), Europe, $2,500; Rep. and Mrs. Ed Miller (R., Md.), Europe, $1,450; Delegate and Mrs. A. Fernos-Isern (D., Puerto Rico), Europe, $2,000; Rep. James Dextereux (R., Md.), Europe, $3,150; Rep. Harry Sheppard (D., Calif.), round-the-world, $3,386.

Another group, including Rep. and Mrs. Dan Reed (R., N.Y.) and their son, Bill, spent $4,316 for extra transportation in Europe.

Though it's important for congressmen to know about foreign spending abroad, the irony is that many of the biggest spenders of the taxpayers' money overseas are the loudest criers for government economy.

Note—Almost no congressional junkets are being scheduled this year. It's an election year.

The World Today—

Basic Red Doctrines Read Many Ways

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Even when Communists change their line they still can act according to their four gospels, for when Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin wrote them they did not always say the same thing.

This isn't the first time Communists have talked of trying to win the world peacefully. The problem of the West is to determine whether this is just another change or whether it's sincere and, if it is, to try to meet it sincerely.

Recently the Russians started the world when they told other Communists it was all right to try to win in a parliamentary way, peacefully, because the Marxist-Leninist doctrine on the inevitability of war was out of date.

There was nothing basically new in that. In their earlier days Marx and Engels considered revolution the only road to power, but as they grew older they began to think in terms of trying to win by parliamentary means. And Lenin wasn't always rigid about violent clashes either.

Remembering some of the Communist switches may be a helpful guide to the future.

In 1919, after Lenin took power by bloody revolution, the Communist International (Comintern) in Moscow called for violence as a means to victory elsewhere.

Lenin took a softer line two years later when Russian Communists were in serious economic trouble. He suggested cooperation with Socialists. That lasted about six years. In that period Lenin died.

Then Stalin, Lenin's successor, in 1928 exacted from the world's

As Sedalia Sees It—

Public Thinking On War Favors Mass Retaliation

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — In voting another billion for the Air Force, the Senate demonstrated its grasp of practical politics a la Eisenhower. It is perfectly true that the President and his principal advisers opposed the increase. Yet it is also true that the President himself helped create an atmosphere which made approval all but inevitable.

As many observers have noted, this Administration has given the nation a politically popular defense policy. We are prepared for all-out thermonuclear war. We are not so well prepared for the nibbling wars.

That's the way most of us want it. Korea was a frustrating experience. Towards the end, national sentiment probably favored going all-out or pulling out.

It is logical enough to conclude that there is no reason to stockpile weapons for brush wars which the nation is psychologically unprepared to fight. Hence the doctrine of massive retaliation. The concept may be unsound, but it is popular.

That helps explain the Senate vote. The Senate was merely giving the people more of what they wanted. The Administration's argument that more was too much proved ineffective.

This failure is significant. It is the first time the President, who surely is regarded as the preeminent military authority, has been rebuffed on a military issue. The popularity of the massive retaliation doctrine, of which the Air Force is a leading exponent, was partly responsible for the set back.

But other influences were at work. The testimony of General Le May, boss of the Strategic Air Command, carried great weight. He warned the Senate that Russia's capacity for massive retaliation would exceed ours in several years unless production schedules were raised.

President Eisenhower attempted to answer this warning at his press conferences. He said in effect that there was little point in building up more retaliatory power after you already had sufficient power to destroy your enemy utterly.

This implied a willingness on the Administration's part to permit our Air Force to be second best. Such a situation would not induce a comfortable feeling, and the Senate knows it.

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson probably helped the Air Force get another billion by arguing against the appropriation. Wilson used the word phony in his argument. He afterward explained that this word was not aimed at any member of the Senate.

But the damage was done. He was denounced by a succession of Democrats, and not one Republican rose in his defense.

Actually, the increase probably would have been approved in spite of this gaffe. But it provided an excuse and talking point for the pro-Air Force bloc of the Senate.

If the House-Senate conference committee approves the increase, the next step will be up to President Eisenhower. He can impound the funds, as President Truman once did in similar circumstances. Or he can authorize the Air Force to go ahead and spend them.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

A surprising amount of cussing takes place in the normal conversation of a lot of people. It appears that many people cannot express themselves without expletives which defame both God and man. Most of this desecration in expression is thoughtless. Some of it results from a human desire to be blasé or worldly, but much is just bad habit.

It seems inconceivable that our vocabularies should be so limited that we cannot find proper words to describe the objects of our conversation. The little word "very" could be used more frequently and to good advantage by many of the worst offenders. "Extremely," "perfectly," "completely," and "surprisingly" could be substituted for the redundant adjectives which are not descriptive in any sense of the words used.

Many people are setting a poor example for the children of the nation when they limit their vocabularies to meaningless words. The words we use to describe people, their actions and daily events ought not to take God's name in vain.

One of the Ten Commandments is clear in this regard. Few people refuse to accept the Commandments even if they do not strive to obey the newer commandments of brotherhood, neighborliness and love. We cannot expect to raise the spiritual level of America nor of the world if we disregard this simple moral code which forms the foundation of moral law.

We must learn to respect God in our speech as well as in our other activities of morality and religious living.

Cripples Set Lusty Pace For Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A couple of cripples—left fielder Earl Hersh and first baseman Don Bollweg—are setting a lusty pace at the plate for the Wichita Braves, newcomers this year in the American Assn.

Despite finger splints and a tape up left hand, Hersh slammed out two homers and a single, driving in four runs as the Braves lost to Indianapolis 15-10 Tuesday night.

He added a game-winning, three run homer, a double and a single against Louisville in the July 4 doubleheader, swept by Wichita 5-4 and 11-2.

Bollweg, playing with five yards of tape around his midsection to brace a recurrent back injury, has trouble stooping for low ones at first.

But he singled and hit a four-bagger to drive in three runs against Indianapolis Tuesday; drove in five runs against Louisville in the holiday double win, with a home run and two singles in the opener and a one-on homer in the second game.

Hersh, a left-hander from Westminster, Md., was hitting .283 when he broke and dislocated his left middle finger at Louisville in mid-May. He boosted his average above .300 before they took another look at his finger to find it had been broken.

Bench for repairs — to re-break and set the finger—the now is back with it in steel splints.

Hersh has poled 13 of his 19 homers for the season since the break.

Bollweg in pro ball since 1942, was bought from Minneapolis and reported to Wichita May 16.

Batting .176 then, he's boosted his mark to .227 despite bouncing a foul off his right foot, being benched from June 7-15 with an arm lamed by a pitched ball, and recurrence of the back injury.

Proposes Emergency Fund for Ball Clubs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Heads of 27 minor baseball circuits will vote on a proposal to set up a $100,000 emergency fund to aid financially embarrassed minor league clubs.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, ordered an immediate vote on the matter after receiving a request yesterday signed by eight league heads.

Mantle Gets Knee Brace For Injury

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle picked up a brace for his injured right knee today with the prospect of returning to action with the New York Yankees — at least in a pinch-hit role — within "two or three days."

The young slugger planned to rejoin the Yankees in Washington later today. A weekend test of the knee, injured Wednesday at Boston, will determine whether he will start in Tuesday's All-Star Game.

The blond, 24-year-old center fielder, bidding to break Babe Ruth's record season total of 60 home runs, had an X-ray examination here last night. It revealed sprained ligaments, which team physician Dr. Sydney P. Gaynor indicated were not serious. It was he who set the "two or three day" limit.

None of the ligaments were torn from the bone, as was feared.

Mantle, a bit glum but able to walk without assistance, said, "I'll throw that brace away as soon as I can."

The single-hinge brace is worn on the outside of the knee. It looks like and moves like a nutcracker.

The Mick, with 29 home runs to date — five games ahead of Ruth's record 1927 pace — has had leg trouble before, and has worn knee braces before.

"I had a different brace, a double-hinge they call it (fitted on both sides of the knee), but I couldn't pivot with it on," he said. "They say I'll be able to pivot with this one. But I'll have to try it out first."

Mantle, the No. 1 gate attraction in baseball at the moment, injured the knee after fielding a game-winning hit by Boston's Jimmy Piersall in the first game of the Fourth of July twin bill. He scooped up the ball on the run and made an off-balance throw to the plate. He twisted his knee in the process, spraining the ligaments.

He missed the second game of the double-header — the first game he has missed this season — and also sat out yesterday's game.

In the field, reduced to 48 for the final two rounds. But they are far back. Both have 148's for 36 holes.

STAR SLUGGER—Jean Geissinger, first baseman for the All American Girls baseball team which plays the Sedalia Athletics here tonight at Liberty Park, demonstrates the batting form that has made her a rough opponent.

Fast Game Promised—All-American Girls Team Plays Sedalia A's Tonight

Local fans will be in for an evening of unique and exciting baseball when the Sedalia Athletics meet the All-American Girls Baseball team of Omaha, Neb., tonight at 8:30 under the lights of Liberty Park.

Bringing to Sedalia the pick of the girls players of the nation, the ladies should provide some formidable opposition for the Athletics as they compiled a 1955 season record of 32 victories in 62 games against some of the strongest semi-pro teams in the United States.

Since any fan can realize that the girls cannot compare with most of the top-notch semi-pro pitchers throughout the nation, the girls ask that their opponents exchange batteries with them. This is the only exception they make to regulation baseball.

The all-star infield of the girls will find Jean Geissinger on first base, smooth-fielding Joan Berger on second, flashy Gertrude Dunn at shortstop, and Dottie Schroeder, who was discovered by Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs, at third base.

The team was strengthened this spring by the addition of center-fielder Joanne Weaver, one of the outstanding girl baseball players in the nation. A terrific slugger with a lifetime batting average over .300, Joanne is used in center primarily because of her sensational speed and shotgun arm.

Flanking Joanne in the outfield will probably be Jean Smith in left and catcher-outfielder Katie Horstman in right.

For the Sedalia Athletics it will probably be right-hander Bobby Brown on the mound, making his second start of the season, as the A's shoot for their fifth consecutive win and ninth victory in 11 starts.

The infield for the Athletics will consist of Ed Russell at first, batting .333; Bones Morgan on second, hitting .316; Ralph Fall at shortstop, with a .455 batting average; and Sonny Thomas on third, hitting .139. In the outfield it will be Billy Dey in left, hitting .302; Don Broadus in center, at .182; and Larry Vilmer in right field, batting .190. Behind the plate will be the capable Salty Schumaker, hitting .351 for the season.

John Bennett Gets Good Start For Olympics

MILWAUKEE (AP)—So far Melvin (Bus) Shimek, Marquette University track coach, hasn't been wrong about John Bennett.

And today Shimek predicted that the 26-year-old U.S. Olympic team broad jumper can set a new world's record.

Bennett, an orphan from Grand Forks, N.D., earned an Olympic berth at Los Angeles last week with a leap of 25 feet 8 inches. The great Jesse Owens holds the world record of 26 feet 8 1/2 inches. It was set at Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1935 and is the oldest of the 21 world marks listed by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Shimek knows his subject. He coached Bennett before the fast-developing athlete entered the Army. And he is batting 1,000 as a prophet as far as Bennett is concerned.

When Bennett was a sophomore, Shimek predicted he would do 24 feet the following year and he did. The next year Shimek predicted a 25-foot leap and Bennett followed the script. In 1954 he told Bennett that 26 feet was within his range and it was.

Latin America Swings Close in Hoylake Meet

HOYLAK, England (AP)—Golf history is in the making on the ancient greens and fairways of the 6,969-yard Hoylake golf club course today. It's payoff day in the 72-hole British Open championship.

In the championship's 96-year history, the coveted crown always has been won by British Commonwealth and U.S. golfers. That may be altered today.

Two Latin-Americans—Enrique Bertolino and Roberto De Vincenzo—Spaniard Angel Miguel and Belgian Flor van Donck are smack up among the leaders and hope to walk off with the title when the final 36 holes are completed late today.

The man they have to beat is defending champion Peter Thomson of Australia.

With 140 for the first two rounds the Aussie is leading Bertolino and De Vincenzo by one stroke and playing with the confidence of a man who feels his name is already written on the trophy.

Two Americans—Mike Souckak of Berwick, Pa., and Frank Strahan of Toledo, Ohio—still are in 600-foot swim, all ages, Lawrence Boggess.

Diving: Boys under 16, Joe Moorehead; boy over 16, Chris Moorehead.

Before the competitive swimming events, a water comedy was conducted under the direction of Chris Moorehead.

Prizes for the winners were donated through the courtesy of the Sedalia Park Board, of which John Vanderkamp is president.

Jean Ashley Meets Hardwick in Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Defending champion Jean Ashley of Chanute, Kan., meets Mrs. Patt Hardwick of Longmont, Colo., in today's semifinals of the 14th annual Broadmoor Women's Invitation golf tournament.

Miss Ashley, 17, defeated Mrs. Jack Munger of Dallas, 4 and 2, yesterday. Mrs. Blanton, 1949 champion, eliminated Linda Melton of Oklahoma City, 1 up in 19 holes.

Miss Reed won from Mrs. H. T. D. Jones of Ponca City, Okla., 1 up. Miss Hardwick ousted Susan Casey of Tulsa, Okla., 3 and 2.

Mrs. Blanton won the 17th, 18th and 19th with a birdie and two paros to overcome Miss Melton.

Denver Opens Home Stand for Ten Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The American Assn. leading Denver Bears open a 10-game home stand Friday that gives Denver an opportunity to widen its 6 1/2-game cushion.

Omaha clipped the visiting Bears, 9-1, Thursday night. Minneapolis picked up a game on the leaders by nipping St. Paul, 1-0, in 10 innings, at Minneapolis. Charleston clubbed host Indianapolis, 17-2. Wind and rain postponed the Louisville at Wichita game.

Milwaukee Loses Grip on Placing In Chicago Game

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Their own County Stadium, of all places, is fast becoming a "jinx" park for the Milwaukee Braves who take over the National League lead on the road.

The Braves lost their grasp on first place again last night in a 7-1 defeat by the Chicago Cubs. It was the 12th defeat in their last 18 games at home (where they have only a 14-14 season mark) and shoved the Milwaukee three percentage points behind the Cincinnati Redlegs, who were idle.

In their last home stand, the Braves lost 10 of 15 and tumbled from first to fifth before catching fire with an 11-game winning streak on the road. Now they've lost two of three on the current home stand.

An even worse home record came to an end in the American League as the Detroit Tigers—who had gone through 15 games without a victory at Briggs Stadium—laid the wood to Cleveland and Bob Lemon to win 13-7 and put the third place Indians 5 1/2 games behind first place New York.

The Yankees, with Gil McDougald banging in four runs with a homer, double and single, defeated Boston 6-1 in a scheduled day-night doubleheader that saw

Tigers Ride Indians Into Game Win

DETROIT (AP)—"You get used to a lot of things after 29 years of it," said Bucky Harris. "But I haven't figured out yet how to get used to losing."

The 59-year-old manager, who started his big league managing career long before many of his Detroit Tiger players were born, was reflecting in the clubhouse yesterday after his club ended its prolonged home victory drought.

A 13-7 thumping of the third-place Cleveland Indians halted the Tigers' Briggs Stadium winless streak at 15.

The Tigers have won only 10 games at home this season while dropping 27. On the road they have played .600 ball.

"Don't ask me to explain it," said Harris. "I'd like to know the answer myself. They've looked like two different ball clubs."

"I don't want this to sound like an alibi for myself or an excuse for the team. Maybe they're not as good as we thought they were. But a team can't lose the best shortstop in baseball and be short on pitching and expect to put together any kind of a record."

Harris pointed out that shortstop Harvey Kuenn, who was out of the regular lineup for nine games because of an ankle injury, still cannot go at top speed. The Tigers' 10-man pitching staff includes Ned Garver, who hasn't started a game since the first week of the season because of arm trouble, and bonus baby Jim Brady, whose earned run average for six innings of relief work is a huge 22.50.

"I think we would have won half these games we lost at home if we could have had Kuenn in their all the time—and at full speed," Harris commented. "And we haven't had too much to fall back on in the bullpen and we knew from the start that our bench wasn't going to help us much."

Joe Savoldi, Michigan State's versatile trackman, won the 1956 Drake Relays 120-yard high hurdle event in 0:14.2—one tenth of a second off the meet record.

When racing began at old Monmouth Park in Red Bank, N.J., in 1870, the events were run clockwise instead of counter clockwise as they are run today.

The nightcap postponed by rain. It was the only other game scheduled in the AL, and pushed the Yanks' lead to four games over idle Chicago.

N. Edwards Has Long Run As 'Drunkard'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight a spry old gentleman with a perky mustache will step onto the stage of the Theater Mart and convulse the audience with his monkey-shines.

How can I be sure that he'll make a hit?

Because he's been doing the same thing night unto 23 years.

This is the 23rd birthday of that venerable old-timer "The Drunkard," which long ago shattered every long-run record in the American theater. Historians can thumb through their files, but I doubt if they will find anyone to beat Neely Edwards' record for longevity in one show.

"It all started on Christmas Eve in 1933," he remembered. "The producers of the show asked me if I would like to make a guest appearance in the aftershow at 'The Drunkard.' I did, and they invited me to become a regular member of the cast. I started on New Year's Eve and I've been with it ever since."

For Neely, it turned out to be the actor's dream: virtually a lifetime job.

"Yes, it has been a wonderful thing for me," he agreed. "especially now, when things are so tough for actors. If you get a two-day bit in pictures nowadays, you figure you're doing well."

Neely was a headliner for years, first with Ed Flanagan, father of Dennis O'Keefe, and then with Bunny Granville, father of Bonita Granville. He also was under contract to Universal Pictures for several years.

He still keeps his hand in other mediums, having done a live TV show for GE Theater recently and a role in "Solid Gold Cadillac" with Judy Holliday.

Jack Paar Cares Little For Big Time

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Gleason was sitting at the bar in a well known restaurant one recent noonday when a young fellow strode past on his way to the dining room. Gleason tapped his shoulder and they talked for a few minutes. Then the young fellow walked on to a table.

"Hey," he said to a man waiting there for him, "I just met Jackie Gleason. Do you know I've never met him before? Do you know I haven't been in here for a year? I never go any place or meet anybody. All I ever want to do is get home to Bronxville. I'm the world's biggest half-baked celebrity."

The man at the table thought Jack Paar was being unfair to himself. He places Paar among the few original wits in television and radio.

"I just want a very small green salad," Paar said, looking at his watch. "I want to get home and dig in the garden." Then he wondered aloud when the next train left for Bronxville.

The essence of Paar can now be heard over the ABC radio network each Monday through Friday morning. He also is appearing on five Ed Sullivan shows on CBS-TV and has pinch-hit two nights for Steve Allen on the Tonight show. (NBC-TV).

But for reasons known only to the people at CBS he no longer has a morning television show on that network. Paar take it philosophically, however.

"Thanks to CBS I'm now a new face," he said. "For years they hid me in daytime hours where practically nobody could see me. I might be good if they'd let people see me."

He likes the idea, however, that a great many people will be able to hear him on ABC. "I can talk about anything I want to," he said. "It's not a disk jockey type show where I have to read labels and that sort of thing. We have some good music—no rock 'n' roll. I can talk about building homes and raising children—and things like my wife and I experience. He looked at his watch. "Have you any idea of the Bronxville train schedule at this hour?"

Wins Divorce Over Husband's Drinking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television actress Jean Howell, 28, has won a divorce from Larry Thor, 39, actor-announcer, on the assertion that he was seldom sober during their four-month marriage.

She testified in Superior Court that Thor, among other things, went to sleep on the floor while dinner guests were at their Malibu home, went to sleep under a neighbor's piano, and took a monkey to a bar and to work with him.

Tells Kiwanis Of Different Types of Nations

In observance of Independence Day the Sedalia Kiwanis program Thursday noon in Bothwell hotel consisted of a talk by Captain Tom Campbell, chaplain from Whiteman Air Force Base.

He drew a line of distinction between three types of nations in the world today—the secular, which is not religious in character but emphasizes the state above the people; the demonic nations, whose leadership has the nature of a demon, and the covenant nations, such as the Founding Fathers established for America. The latter places its dependence upon God rather than man and is a nation in which religion plays a part on the basis that the whole cause of freedom stems from divine guidance.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Steve Allen Seeks Method To Break Sullivan Monopoly

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"I get angry just looking at a row of books, knowing there won't be time to read them all," said Steve Allen. "The biggest trouble with life is that it doesn't last long enough for you to do all the things you want to."

Steve, who quit college after six months to take a $40-a-week job as a radio announcer, at 34 has become a top figure in television, lives on Park Ave. and is married to a beautiful actress named Jayne Meadows.

Many an entertainer might feel content at this point to rest a bit on his oars and think he had it made. Not Allen, a man of many talents. He wants to explore new fields. Being a successful actor-composer-pianist-master of ceremonies-comedian aren't enough to keep him busy.

"I have a feeling that most of the jobs in the entertainment world really are only part-time," he said, thoughtfully. "Song writing, for example, is a part-time job—even if you're an Irving Berlin. It takes only a half hour to write a song. It's a real snap as a profession."

Steve has written some 200 songs himself, including the lyrics for the current hit tune, "Picnic." In the midst of these side chores he is still emceeing three "tonight" shows a week and seeking to overthrow Ed Sullivan's virtual 8-year monopoly on Sunday evenings.

How can he keep so many irons in the fire without falling apart? "I was born with a relaxed nervous system," Steve said, smiling. "I don't worry. And I get 9 hours sleep a night. Sleep is basically important to me."

"But, oddly, the thing that has done the most for me is the ability to do it in front of a camera and still feel and act like a human being."

"For some reason, very few can. Dave Garroway, Arthur Godfrey, Jack Paar, Garry Moore can, but it's hard to name more than half a dozen."

The NBC-CBS struggle for peak ratings on Sunday night doesn't seem to perturb Steve unduly.

"The two people who have the sanest attitudes toward it are Ed Sullivan and myself," he said. "We are friends. Both he and I have the viewpoint that there is plenty of room on the air for good entertainment. The industry right now is too rating-happy. I don't care too much about my rating so long as it's recognized that I have a good show."

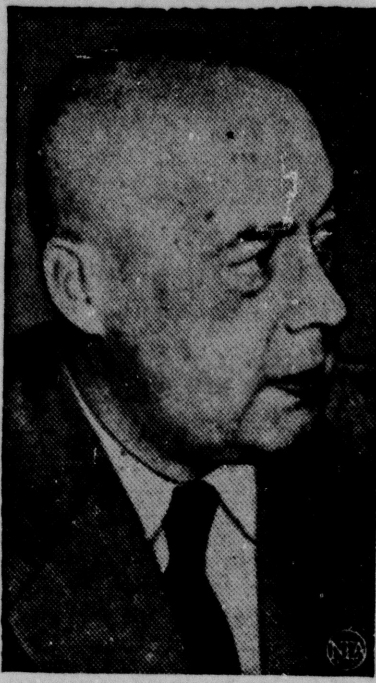

Prospectors' Outfit Rolls Over 475 Feet

CEDAR BREAKS, Utah (AP)—As two uranium prospectors were standing and admiring the view in southern Utah's Cedar Breaks National Monument, their station wagon, trailer and drilling rig rolled over the rim of the jagged canyon. It came to rest some 475 feet down.

Now Vernon P. Parker and Earl Anderson are trying to figure out how to reclaim the wreckage. The park service says it must come out. It's against the law to leave it there.

"We had just gotten out of the jeep to take pictures," Parker says, "when Earl yelled that the outfit was moving. I turned around and made a grab for the door as the jeep went by but couldn't get it open. I had to let the whole thing go over the edge."

Turn that creamed chicken into an especially delicious dish by cooking sliced mushrooms and thin strips of green pepper in the butter you are using for the sauce; then add flour and milk or light cream and proceed as usual.

KEEPER OF CHAOS — Poland's prime minister, Joseph Cyrankiewicz, above, may find that ruthlessly suppressed bread riots in Poznan will provide the spark to touch off tinder-dry hatred of the Red regime in Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Resulting political explosion could blast Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev right out of the Kremlin's top job and make former premier Georgi Malenkov once again top dog, according to speculative reports as published in London newspapers.

Claims Former Mate Not Supporting Child

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Dr. John E. Williams of Beverly Hills, Calif., who married Eva Gabor last April, has been charged by his former wife with failing to support their 9-year-old son.

In a complaint filed here, Mrs. Donna Jean Williams said she had not received any support money since May 1955. She said the divorce settlement specified that he pay $100 a month. They were divorced in February 1956.

Re-examines U.S. Offer to Build Nile River Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has decided to re-examine its offer to help Egypt build the world's biggest dam on the Nile River.

The loan-grant deal was proposed to Egypt last December.

The review by the State Department demonstrates serious American concern over what diplomats refer to as the increasingly anti-Western and pro-Russian policies of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's government.

As evidence of its tougher attitude, the State Department has notified Egypt that foreign aid grants previously earmarked to help Egypt begin its $1,300,000,000 Aswan Dam project have now been reallocated to other foreign aid programs considered to be of higher priority.

No money will be available for Egypt until Congress approves the new multibillion-dollar foreign aid program still being shaped up and even then, responsible informants said, no new allocation is to be made for the dam until the re-examination has been completed.

This review will be undertaken, it was said, with full awareness that cancellation of the aid offer might cause Nasser's government to rely on Russia as its main source of financial and technical aid.

Takes Hard Way Out Of State Penitentiary

BALTIMORE (AP)—Doyle Delmar Royal, serving 20 years for hold-ups and auto thefts, got out of the Maryland Penitentiary the hard way.

The 21-year-old prisoner slipped away from a work detail and climbed 60 feet up a rain spout when it evidently broke. He fell to a macadam roadway and ended up in University Hospital with two broken legs, a fractured jaw and possible head and internal injuries.

An average of 10 mice live on a farm acre, says the National Geographic Society.

Picks Teeth, Swallows Knife While In Bed

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Doctors operated to retrieve the open pen-knife 12-year-old Lee Reeves swallowed accidentally. "I was lying in bed picking my teeth and the knife slipped," he explained.

Lightning Strikes Man in Gas Station

HAZEL GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Ralph Lockard's body was sore today but he certainly wasn't sore-headed about the situation. He figured he was lucky to be alive.

Lockard said lightning struck him at his filling station Wednesday. He said the lightning hurled him a short distance, left shoulder burn.

It's a Great Time to Buy a Buick

Buick Special
6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera

(And at the Best Buy Yet!)

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU—if you step out and buy yourself a 1956 Buick right now?

Well, first of all — the time is right.

Right now, your present car is at its peak worth.

And, with the whole summer and almost half of '56 still ahead of you, you'll get more enjoyment out of a spirited new Buick this year — if you buy now.

Second, there's the matter of how much more automobile your money buys in the best Buick yet.

We tell you flatly that nowhere but in a '56 Buick can you get so much bounty for so little booty.

For example, take the beautiful big '56 Buick SPECIAL pictured here.

It's one big reason why Buick now ranks in the top three of America's best-selling cars. Yet, you'll find it priced right close to the well-known smaller cars.

That sure makes Buick a whale of a lot of car for the money. And look:

Nowhere but in a 1956 Buick can you get the absolute smoothness and the electrifying performance of Buick's terrific new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Nowhere else can you get the obedient responsiveness of Buick's big and mighty new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine. Or Buick's matchless new handling ease and ever-level ride buoyancy—or Buick's bold new sweep-ahead styling, and solidity of structure, and stretch-out roominess.

Add it all up and the answer comes out the same, any way you figure it: Now's the time to buy your 1956 Buick.

MILLION
PLANT EXPANSION,
FALL 1957

more MONARCH coming . . . thanks to our scheduled

50% INCREASE IN CAPACITY

To meet growing needs for more cement, Monarch is now in progress on one of the largest privately financed expansion programs in this area. Production will continue as usual while we invest $8½ millions in new additions—a new rock crusher; new handling and storage facilities; new raw and finish grinding mills; a third new kiln; and many other plant improvements. Completion of our program next year will increase our capacity 50%, to more than 2½ million barrels of Monarch cement annually. Thus we keep faith with those who so long and loyally have placed their trust in Monarch.

Fail to Trap Kidnapers With False Ransom

Infant Boy May Have Been Slain, Official Concedes

WESTBURY, N. Y., July 5—(AP)—The kidnaper of a 4-week-old boy failed today to enter a police trap baited with dummy ransom packages. An official for the first time conceded the child may have been slain.

The ransom packages were envelopes filled with blank paper in the shape of currency. The only real bills in them were on the outside of the wads of paper.

The packages were placed outside the brick ranch house from which the kidnaper yesterday afternoon seized the 33-day-old Peter Weinberger, youngest son of a well-to-do wholesale druggist.

Child Seized From Patio

The child's mother, Mrs. Morris Weinberger, a tiny, brown-haired woman, left Peter alone in his carriage on the patio while she went into the house for a fresh diaper. She was inside only a few minutes. When she returned to the patio, the child was gone. A note left in the carriage read:

"I hate to do this to you, but I am in great trouble. Don't notify the police. I am not asking for a lot of money, only for what I need, and I am very serious about this."

$2,000 Ransom Asked

The note directed that $2,000 in small bills be placed at an intersection near the suburban home. Because there are two similar intersections nearby, police said they put out two packages—one at each. The kidnaper's own deadline for picking up the ransom was 10 o'clock.

"Every instruction about leaving the package was observed," Detective Chief Snyvesant Pinell told newsmen after the deadline passed. The only apparent deviation was the substitute of worthless paper for actual currency.

Neither of the packages was picked up and eventually they were retrieved.

Announces West Reich Deserter in East Sector

BERLIN, July 5—(AP)—Communist East Germany announced today the arrival of what it called the first deserter from the West German army.

The government news agency ADN said Sgt. Wolf-Dieter Loebel, wearing his army uniform, crossed into East Germany several days ago and asked for asylum. It did not say why he came to the East. In Bonn, the West German Defense Ministry confirmed that Loebel has been missing since June 16.

Says West Spies Move Into Czechoslovakia

VIENNA, Austria, July 5—(AP)—"Western espionage and sabotage agents are sifting into Czechoslovakia in increasing numbers," the Czech Communist party organ, Rude Pravo, declared today.

It was the third time in recent weeks that Rude Pravo had raised this alarm. It called for "extreme alertness of the population and an intensified fight against suspicious persons, all of whom should be immediately reported to the police."

Two Are Pulled Aboard After Boat Capsizes

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—A man and woman were rescued from the Mississippi River near the Mac Arthur bridge last night when 13-foot outboard motorboat capsized.

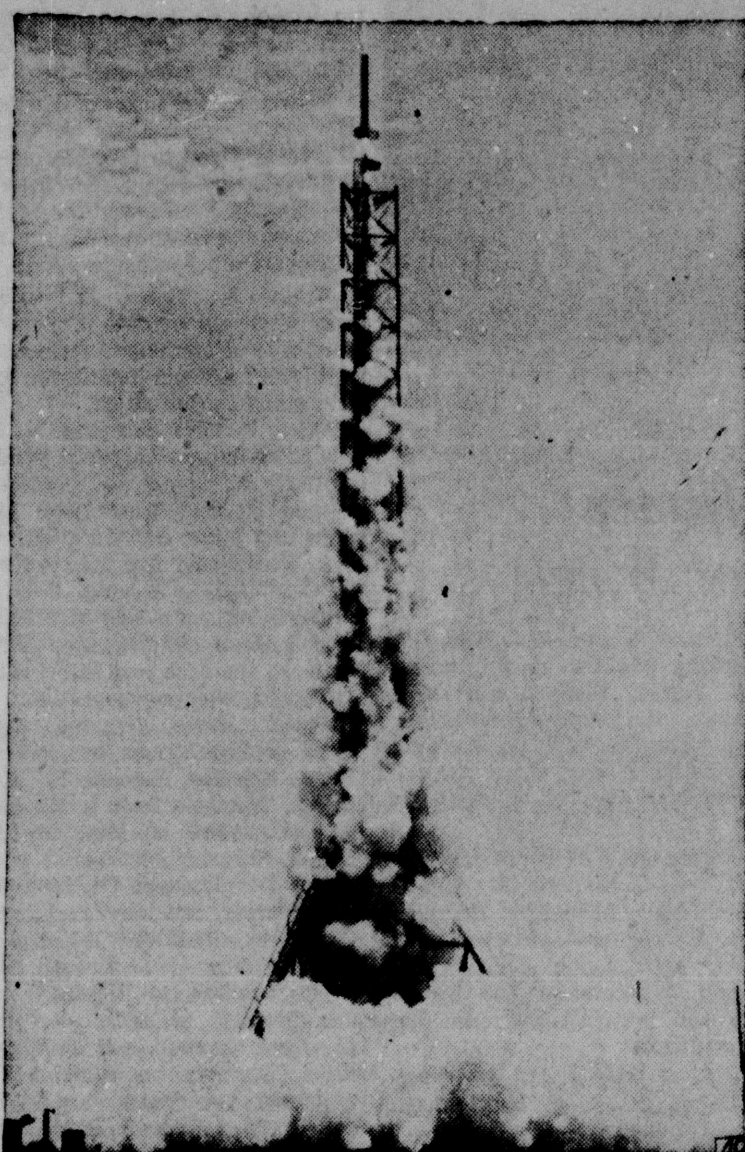

William Leitner, 22, St. Louis, and Miss Sue Franks of El Dorado, Ark., were wearing life jackets and clinging to the side of their overturned boat when another boat went to their rescue.

Israel Says Troops Mass Report Untrue

Charges Arabs With Spreading Reports To Hide Own Moves

JERUSALEM, July 5—(AP)—Israel told the Big Four powers tonight it is not massing troops on the Arab borders. The Israelis accused the Arabs of spreading reports of such concentration to cover up military movements of their own.

But a U. N. spokesman announced there were no confirmed troops concentrations whatever anywhere along the Israel-Arab armistice lines.

No Complaints, UN Says

The U. N. statement was based on intelligence from observers attached to the U. N. truce supervisory organization. The spokesman said neither the Arabs nor Israel had complained about any such concentrations.

Walter Eytan, director general of the Israeli Foreign Ministry, summoned the envoys of Britain, the United States, Russia and France and informed them any reports of an impending Israeli attack on Jordan are fictitious.

This followed a day of heightened tension on the borders. One Jordanian was wounded in a minor skirmish on the northern sector.

Jordan Silence Israel Fire

A military source in the Arab-held old part of Jerusalem said the Jordan army, with orders to shoot back if attacked, silenced Israeli patrol fire in a 10-minute clash.

In the Israeli part of Jerusalem a military spokesman reported one Jordanian who crossed the border in northern Samaria was wounded in an exchange of fire with a watchman.

Reports from Arab Jerusalem said the Jordan army was being concentrated and reinforced all along the Jordan-Israeli armistice line, scene of bloody conflict in the 1948 Palestine war.

Judith Blythin Ends Sedalia Visit, Journeys to England

Only too quickly for Judith Blythin did her year in America end and too quickly, also for the Philip McLaughlin family, 500 South Grand, especially for Mary Alice. For Judith's mother in Crofton, England, however, it was a very long year, and she will be glad when Judith is home again.

Judith, who is one of the American Field Service Exchange Students, left a week ago Tuesday. The McLaughlins took her to Topeka, Kan., where she stayed two days and joined some of the other students. Then she went to Kansas City and from there called the McLaughlins on Saturday. She was headed for Tennessee, then to North Carolina and they would all meet in Washington, D. C. The entire group of 653 foreign students may be the very first visitors the convalescing President Eisenhower will meet if he keeps his day on Friday, July 13, at the White House.

This will climax a three-week, 2,000 mile tour of the United States before returning overseas after a year's visit here. These students, like Judith, lived in American homes just like members of the family and attended local schools. Judith was graduated from Smith-Cotton in May.

The exchange-of-persons is one American foreign policy which rates high praise whether it's conducted by the State Department or some private group. It gives better understanding between people of different countries. The American Field Service exchange student program was launched first by the men in the volunteer ambulance service after World War I and was continued by them and others. Judith was sponsored by the local chapter of the American Association of University Women, who are also sponsoring Kristian Edvard Kolberg, of Sarpsborg, Norway. Kristian will come to Sedalia soon for a year to live in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hemphill, Route 4, and attend Smith-Cotton.

Six other youngsters besides Judith, spent the year in Missouri. This is a two-way program and on June 25, there were 696 American boys and girls left for a three-month stay with families in Eu-

Mailbox Culprit Strikes Third Time

The third incident of mailboxes being blown up was reported to the Sheriff's office Wednesday. O. H. Watson, Route 1, reported to Deputy Sheriff Ed George that his mailbox was blown to pieces sometime Monday night and his house was ransacked and seven White Rock hens were stolen. Sometime Sunday two other mailboxes in the same vicinity belonging to Mrs. L. W. Kroos and Howard Maynes were blown up.

July Fourth Mishaps Claim Lives of 253

Traffic Accidents Kill 137, 77 Die From Drowning

By The Associated Press

The nation's one-day observance of Fourth of July brought violent death to 253 persons—137 of them in traffic accidents.

A final tabulation Thursday showed 77 persons drowned and 39 met death from miscellaneous causes.

There was one fireworks death, in Wyoming. This matched the single fireworks death of 1955.

The traffic toll, which has been on the increase for 15 consecutive months, was higher than forecast.

Had Predicted 130

The National Safety Council estimated in advance there might be 130 such deaths but expressed the hope the total could be held to 80. The toll set a postwar high for a one-day Independence Day observance. There were 105 traffic deaths in 1951, the only other one-day celebration since World War II.

The casualty list also was much longer than on the recent one-day Memorial Day holiday. On that occasion there were 109 traffic deaths, 32 drownings and 33 miscellaneous deaths.

A nonholiday survey made by The Associated Press recently for comparative purposes showed 66 traffic deaths, 21 drowning and 12 deaths from miscellaneous causes. The survey covered a 30-hour period, from 6 p. m. Tuesday, June 19 to midnight June 20.

Texas had the highest holiday toll of any state, both in traffic and over-all deaths. The state reported 14 traffic fatalities, 4 drownings and 2 deaths from miscellaneous causes.

Army Boosts Draft Call for September

WASHINGTON, July 5—(AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 14,000 men in September.

This is 1,000 more than the previously announced quotas for July and August. It also is the largest monthly draft by a single military service since January 1955.

The September call brings to 2,084,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the adoption of Selective Service in September 1950.

School Aid Bill Defeated

Integration Provision Added Before the Vote

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The House today nailed an anti-segregation amendment to the school aid bill—then killed the entire measure.

A 224-194 vote against final passage came after a day of hectic confusion. It climaxed a bitter fight on the issue of whether states which practice racial segregation in their public schools should be barred from getting construction money from a proposed $1,600,000,000 fund.

Adopts Powell Amendment

Before killing the bill, the House adopted on a rollcall vote of 225-192 an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-NY) requiring states to "comply with decisions of the Supreme Court" to be eligible for federal aid.

It was a day of swiftly changing coalitions. Republicans and Northern Democrats teamed up to write the Powell amendment into the bill. But then Republicans and Southern Democrats joined forces to defeat the whole measure.

The rollcall on the Powell amendment found 148 Republicans and 77 Democrats for it, while 146 Democrats and 46 Republicans were opposed.

On the tally which defeated the bill, 119 Republicans and 105 Democrats voted against the measure, while 119 Democrats and 75 Republicans were for it.

Says Demos Responsible

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) said after the final vote that "Democrats must take the responsibility for killing the bill" by refusing to go along with GOP-backed amendments to apportion the funds for school construction largely on the basis of need.

President Eisenhower, in urging a 14-billion-dollar aid program over a five-year period, had wanted the need factor stressed in relieving the school room shortage. The bill as defeated would have based aid largely on school population.

Had the Republican proposals been included, Halleck said, at least "50 fellows on our side would have gone down the line for it."

Some Blame Coalition

Northern Democrats, on the other hand, blamed what they called the "same old coalition" of Republicans and Southern Democrats for the bill's defeat.

Rep. Wier (D-Minn) said federal aid for schools lost because of "the solid Southern bloc and the solid Republican bloc, who have opposed any federal aid to education at all."

It was a hectic day all around, even for the House which isn't lacking in capacity to get itself involved in parliamentary snarls.

During the parliamentary confusion, the House at one point killed the Powell anti-segregation amendment. It was promptly voted back in. The later rollcall vote affirmed this action.

Shoots Negro Because Of Attention He Paid To Slayer's Daughter

ST. JOSEPH, July 5—(AP)—Len Cruse, 76, Negro, today told police he shot and killed Warren Guiden, also a Negro, because he objected to the attention Guiden was paying to his daughter.

Guiden, a 47-year-old tavern operator, had been going with Bernice Cruse. He was shot four times shortly after he drove up to Cruse's home.

Chief of Detectives Verne V. Starmer said Cruse admitted the shooting to him. He said Bernice had been working as a waitress at Guiden's tavern.

Sets Hearing on Plan For Gas Firm Refunds

ST. JOSEPH, July 5—(AP)—The State Public Service Commission has set July 18 as the date for a hearing on the plan of the Gas Service Co. for making of refunds to gas consumers.

The refunds result from the establishment by the Federal Power Commission of a lower price on natural gas than had been asked by the company.

The Gas Service Co., in its application to the commission, stated a total of $2,446,421.14 would be refunded in Missouri. In addition $108,954.68 in interest will be distributed. The refund will be on the basis of gas used by each consumer from October, 1954 to June, 1955.

St. Louis Gas Firm Seized By Missouri

King-Thompson Law Exercised to Seize Strike-Bound Plant

ST. LOUIS, July 5—(AP)—The strike-bound Laclede Gas Co. was seized by the state of Missouri today but a union spokesman said the strikers would not return to work.

The seizure, under the state's King-Thompson law, took effect at 5 p. m. (CDT) under orders from Gov. Phil M. Donnelly. The law prohibits strikes against public utilities.

Seizure papers were served in the Laclede offices on Robert W. Otto, board chairman, and H. Reid Derrick, company president, by Acting Police Chief Joseph Casey and state Highway Patrolman J. C. Smith.

Strikers Not To Return

However, Joseph Appelbaum, international vice president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said the 2,200 strikers would not return to work.

The 4-day strike has disrupted natural gas service to more than 10,000 residents of St. Louis and St. Louis County. The utility has about 360,000 customers in the area.

Arthur M. Hale, a federal conciliator, said negotiation sessions broke up late today but would be resumed again tonight. There was no apparent progress toward a settlement during a morning session, he said.

Charge Unconstitutionality

The union claims the King-Thompson law is unconstitutional and says it should have federal jurisdiction.

Otto, in a telegram to Gov. Donnelly, acknowledged receipt of the seizure order and said:

"Property, equipment and facilities of Laclede Gas Co. are immediately available for operation in the public interest during state seizure under such terms and conditions as you and your agent may direct subject to the laws of Missouri."

Ignores Demands Of Race Issues At NEA Meeting

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—The resolutions committee of the National Education Assn. submitted recommendations today which ignored demands of some members that the NEA take stands on two racial questions.

This virtually assured a floor fight at tomorrow's closing session of the NEA annual convention here.

The committee draft expressed "the conviction of the association that all problems of integration in our schools are capable of solution at the state and local levels by citizens x x x working together."

Soviet Air Force Biggest, US' Best

Twining Reports to Ike, Gives Appraisal After Tour of Russia

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 5—(AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining reported today Russia probably has more jet aircraft than the United States but "there is no question" that this country has the better air force.

Fresh from a visit to Moscow, the Air Force chief of staff gave this appraisal to newsmen after reporting on his trip to President Eisenhower and top Pentagon brass gathered here.

Views Comparative Air Power

Twining was guarded in his talk with reporters and his blood pressure seemed to rise a bit under their persistent questioning. But he made these contributions to the debate raging over comparative U. S. and Soviet air strength:

1. There is no question, as far as he can see, about this country's remaining in front in the airpower race in the next few years. Qualitatively, it is in front now.

2. Nevertheless, Russia might surpass the United States in military aviation by 1960 if, as Twining put it, this country goes to sleep and does not keep moving.

3. The Russians "probably are ahead of us in jet aircraft-number-wise."

4. He still thinks, as he did when he testified before congressional committees last month, that the two nations are "about the same" in the over-all number of military aircraft, counting Navy, Coast Guard and Marine planes, as well as the Air Force.

Air Force Plans 'Satisfactory'

5. On Air Force development, he believes "the programs the Air Force has recommended are satisfactory, at this time."

Thus Twining stood generally with the administration on Air Force policy and against a powerful group of senators who contend the United States is losing ground to the Soviet Union in the struggle for world air supremacy.

Last Friday Congress passed a defense bill giving the Air Force nearly a billion dollars more than Eisenhower requested for the fiscal year which began July 1. Demands were made that most of the extra money be spent on increased production of heavy, long-range bombers and other modern weapons.

Twining said he didn't want to comment on whether members of Congress were unnecessarily alarmed about the airpower situation.

Try to Rob Fireworks Firm 3rd Year in Row

ST. LOUIS, July 5—(AP)—An attempt was made today to rob a wholesale fireworks firm—the third straight year it's happened the day after the Fourth of July.

All three drew blanks. Patrolman Sylvester Gasmann, remembering the past two incidents, stopped to check the suburban Lemay plant of Atomic Fireworks Inc., and saw two men bolt out of a warehouse door. Gasmann fired a riot gun but the pair escaped.

The office safe stood ajar inside and the office was ransacked. T. R. Green, general manager, said receipts were banked yesterday.

Charged With Assault For Shooting 2 Girls

KANSAS CITY, July 5—(AP)—Two charges of assault with intent to kill were filed today against William Emmett, 75, who shot two girls after he complained they had been noisy.

Emmett, manager of a rooming house, failed to post bond of $2,000 and was sent to jail. His preliminary was set for July 19.

The girls, Denna Higginbotham, 15, and Mrs. Geraldine Rank, 16, were reported in fair condition at General Hospital. They were shot with a .22 calibre rifle as they sat in a car near the rooming house.

CRASH VICTIMS RECOVERED—Seven bodies that contain unidentified portions of the bodies of 70 people killed in a TWA Constellation crash near Grand Canyon June 30 are unloaded from helicopter that brought them from canyon. Plane apparently collided with UAL DC-7 in mid-air over canyon and death list reached 121. (AP Wirephoto).

Helicopters Land on Peak At Crash Site

Further Evidence Of a Collision Is Discovered

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., July 5 (AP)—Daring Army helicopter crews today finally succeeded in landing on a tiny pinnacle 2,600 feet above the Grand Canyon floor where a United Airliner crashed last Saturday after colliding with a TWA plane in a tragedy that took 128 lives.

They found further evidence of a collision of the two giant airliners in commercial aviation's worst accident.

The first helicopter to reach the almost inaccessible spot was piloted by Capt. Walter Spriggs of Smackover, Ark., who said the landing was made on a spot no larger than the 'copter itself.

Was Considered Unreachable Experts had predicted neither helicopters or ground crews would ever reach the crash site.

"If you misjudge the distance by 10 or 15 feet," Spriggs said, "you would drop maybe 1,000 feet into the canyon. It's real dangerous."

Spriggs and W. O. Howard Proctor of Kings Mountain, N. C., brought out a piece of cowering UAL engineers said definitely was from a DC7 and another piece painted red and white which Gordon Gilmore, TWA publicist, said bore markings "similar" to those of TWA's Superconstellations.

R. P. (Jack) Parshall, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator, said it had not been determined if the white and red striped metal was from the TWA plane.

No Official Statement on Cause The CAB has refused to issue any statement on the cause of the tragedy until the investigation is completed.

Fourth In Sedalia Considered About Quietest Ever

Sedalia's Fourth of July observance was the quietest in memory of oldest inhabitants, and the ban on firecrackers, torpedoes, bombs and other explosives of a fireworks nature was rigidly observed.

Noisemaking was virtually completely subdued and was limited to boys and a few girls having toy cap-pistols. The boys had their guns, in a glance looking like those of the early day frontiersmen with holsters and other apertances and impersonated such pioneers and explorers as Davy Crockett, Kit Carson, Buffalo Bill and other who made history on the plains in years gone by.

Sedalia's who took advantage of the holiday to have picnics, visit the Lake of the Ozarks or other favorite spots for fishing, or making trip to have a day with relatives in other towns not too far distant for such pleasure, and make it home that night.

In town there were a few individuals who had procured firecrackers from outside sources, as Sedalia merchants did not stock any fireworks as had been the custom through earlier years. This afforded them an opportunity to touch them off in defiance of the ordinance prohibiting their usage. Sporadic firing of them was heard on the eve of the Fourth and the night of the Fourth, but such instances were few and far apart.

Burned fingers, hands or singed eyebrows by premature explosion of firecrackers when the fuse was ignited were through the regulation prevented, and Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and other officers expressed much satisfaction on general compliance with the edict from the city council in passing an ordinance covering such a situation.

Phil Harris Spends Time Taking it Easy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—That's what I like about Phil Harris: the guy knows how to live.

While many of his fellow artists are knocking themselves out with weekly TV shows, Phil spends most of his year in the comfortable confines of Palm Springs. There he lives with his wife, Alice Faye, and their two daughters in a lovely home facing the Thunderbird golf course.

A few times every year, Phil lingers up to Hollywood to assist in NBC spectaculars, as he will tomorrow. Once or twice a year he ventures up to make a movie. The rest of the time he spends on the golf course, beside trout streams and otherwise enjoying himself.

On him the life looks good. He is deeply tanned, relaxed and obviously pleased with his existence. I asked him if he ever thought of doing a regular TV show.

"The network has talked about it," he remarked, "but so far they haven't come up with anything satisfactory to me."

What about a TV version of the radio show he used to do with Alice?

"Wouldn't think of it," he said flatly. "Family shows have been done to death on television. It makes me sick to watch them. What could you possibly do on one that hasn't been done before?"

Nor does he think of doing a show that would feature his band. "Somehow bands just don't go over too well on TV," he remarked.

Phil said he'd like to keep pushing his movie career. He made a big impression in "The High and the Mighty," a couple of years back and made "Anything Goes" and "Goodbye My Lady" last year. The latter was a disappointment to him.

Phil said that he expected his wife Alice to remain in retirement. "The children are at an age when they need her the most," he said. "One is 14 and the other is 12. They need her guidance."

Besides the Palm Springs place, they have a home in Encino and real estate holdings elsewhere. Yep, Phil knows how to live. Where's he going after tomorrow's spec?

New Metals Will Become Reality Soon

By RENNIE TAYLOR

AP Science Reporter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—New kinds of metals made out of hydrogen or ammonia will become a reality soon, a group of 6 scientists who deal in very high temperatures was told today.

Other strange substances heretofore unheard of probably can be recovered from regions many miles below the earth's surface, said one investigator.

Some of these substances of the future may help researchers to lick the problem of making containers for the million-degree heat of atomic energy.

Atomic power research at present is hampered by a lack of containers. The toughest metals melt at temperatures under 6,000 degrees. Ceramic materials, made mostly of sand and metallic oxides, tolerate heat fairly well but are too brittle for practical use.

Mixture of metals and ceramics, called cermets, have been tried but have not worked out well.

The new metals will be made by squeezing atoms so hard that they will shrink in size and form substances that behave differently from those made out of unsqueezed atoms, said Dr. H. Tracy Hall of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

Substances like these probably exist now deep inside the earth, having been made by the squeezing effect on atoms produced by the enormous weight of the earth's crust, Dr. S. S. Kistler of the University of Utah reported.

Dr. Hall and Dr. Kistler addressed a symposium on high temperatures, sponsored by Stanford Research Institute and the University of California.

Ammonia, which at ordinary temperatures and pressures is a gas, will change into a metal when subjected to a pressure of about three million pounds per square inch, Dr. Hall reported. This "soon will become a reality," he said, but did not go into detail.

Hydrogen, he added, is expected to turn into a metal when put under a pressure of seven million pounds per square inch.

Pressures as high as three million pounds per square inch have been produced on a laboratory scale by several scientists.

Sedalia Attorney Presides Over Meet Of Regional Bar

Frank W. Hayes, 2217 West Third presided over the annual regional meeting of district 3 of the Missouri Bar at the V.F.W. Hall in Carrollton Saturday.

Principal speakers were Judge Leslie A. Welch, of the Jackson County Probate Court, and Judge Perry G. Storts, of the Saline County Probate Court. Banquet speaker was Rush H. Limbaugh, Cape Girardeau, president of the Missouri Bar.

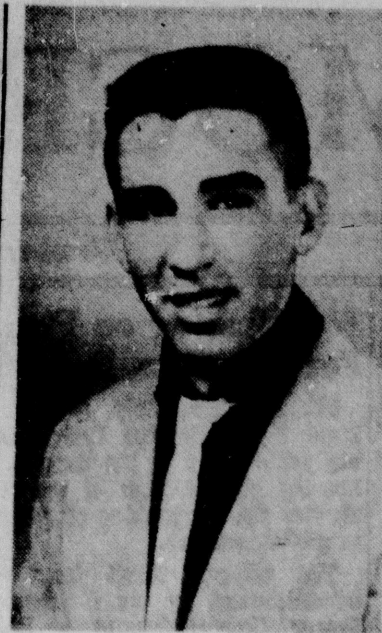

Training meetings in 4-H livestock judging and 4-H dairy judging have been held in Montauk County with 19 members participating. Those interested in livestock judging were Robert Rowles, Jim Knipp, David Franken, Charlotte Stephens, William Stahl, Larry Bond, Junior Kiesel, Rita Harder, Ruth Harder, Paul R. Clennin, Robert Coleman, and Marilyn Bond.

Team members must be 14 years or older to be eligible for state competition. The livestock judging team (three members and one alternate), to represent Montauk County at the State Fair, will be chosen from Paul Clennin, Ruth Allee, Jim Knipp, Charlotte Stephens, William Stahl and Larry Bond.

4-H Judging participants were David Gray, Jim Snyder, Fred Snyder, Marlin Opie, Kenny Snyder, Tommy Campbell and Ronnie Gracy.

Those who will represent Montauk County at the State Fair will be David Gray, Fred Snyder and Jimmy Snyder with Marlin Opie and Ronnie Gracy as alternates. The team members and alternates will do more practice judging at the Montauk County Fair before they judge at the State Fair, Aug. 20.

Wayne Brown, Vernon Ditton, James Goodrich Attend Boys' State for Week

Three Sedalia lads attended the Missouri Boys' State held annually at Central Missouri State College. They were: Wayne Brown, 16, son of Mrs. Mabel Brown, 1812 South Lamine; Vernon Ditton, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ditton, 806 East Fifth; and Jim Goodrich, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Goodrich, 1906 West Fourth.

Wayne was sponsored by the Kiwanis Civic Club, the American Legion sponsored Vernon and Jim by the Rotary Club of Sedalia. All three boys will be seniors at Smith-Cotton Junior and Senior High School next year.

Boys' State began Saturday, June 16 and continued exactly one week until Saturday, June 23. Missouri Boys' State is a mythical forty-ninth state organized and administered for citizenship training purposes under the auspices of the Department of Missouri, The American Legion. A session of the Missouri Boys' State, seven days in length, is held annually within the Missouri Department.

At the convention of boys Wayne Brown entered the school of Law and was trained in a practical fashion for some of the jobs connected with law and with law background. Schools of instruction at Boys' State were: school of law; the school for peace officers; and the legislative school. Vernon Ditton and Jim Goodrich also entered the law school for instruction.

Jim was elected to the Doniphan City Council and also to the judgeship of a county court. Wayne was elected city attorney for Smith City along with being the city chairman for the Federalist Party in Smith City. Vernon lived and voted in the same county with Wayne—Benton County.

The delegations of boys lived in the dormitories of the college, and on each floor was a city of boys. Each city elected its own councilmen and officers for city government. The political parties represented there were the Nationalists and the Federalists.

The instruction program of Missouri Boys' State had three phases: schools, functional activities, and general assemblies. Schools of instruction are held in general subjects such as law, legislation, peace officer and election procedure. Other special schools were held to instruct candidates for office in the duties of the offices which they were seeking. The heart of the instruction program was functional activity of citizenship practice, such as the operation of the courts, legislative assemblies, administration of law enforcement, public sanitation, public welfare, etc.

These activities took a considerable portion of the time allotted for instruction purposes and constitute the chief means through which citizens "learn to do by doing."

In the schools which Wayne, Vernon and Jim attended were lectures by lawyers from Kansas City and from St. Louis along with talks by instructors. The last day of the convention of boys, everyone had a different instructor—that is, they heard all of the instructors and lectures on the campus, or model state.

All the boys were fed in the dormitory of Yeater and Todd Halls.

Housing was also in the dormitories, Yeater, Diemer, and Diemer Annex. Housing arrangements were made early in the spring for the group of boys, along with facilities being planned at that time also.

Wayne lived in Smith City, Vernon lived in Elkhorn City and Jim lived in Doniphan City. Recreation was offered the citizens during their stay at the college. They could only choose one sport a day and could not take the same sport twice.

The staff for Missouri Boys' State consisted of the following types of persons: administrative officers and assistants; staff counselors and assistants; city counselors in charge of city units of boys as supervisors of the training program, assistant city counselors who assist the city counselors, and recreational supervisors. In addition there were numerous visiting staff lecturers, as well as officials of city, county and state governments in Missouri, who spent all or part of a day in helping with the programs of the convention of citizens.

Elections were held for state officials on Thursday. James Wilkinson, Independence, was elected governor of the Boys' State and will preside over Boys' State meetings next year. He replaced Gov. Kenneth Jennings, who left his term of office last Thursday after one year of service.

Wayne, Vernon and Jim returned home to Sedalia last Saturday after spending a week at the Missouri Boys' State, a model state.

Business Takes Cautious Look at Last Half of Year

By SAM DAWSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Business around the nation is taking a more cautious but still hopeful look today at the second half of the year.

A flash recession has rolled down on some industries, notably autos and farm machinery. But while they seek to regain their feet most of the rest of the economy has gone marching right along.

Uncertainty in the steel-strike or peace, price hikes, and inventory buildups, the trend in customer demand—and uncertainty in politics—keep businessmen closely watching the news tickers at mid year.

There are other parts of the economy, notably in agriculture, where the problems are deep rooted. But even the farmers now hope that the worst is over, at least.

At mid year the popular prediction is for a quiet summer followed by a resurgent autumn—a sort of spring revival six months delayed.

There are sharp regional differences. Michigan, where unemployment is serious, lives by the faith that burns eternal there, faith in the power of new auto models to heal all hurts.

Others live on the momentum of the onward and upward surge. California is one example. With the aircraft and electronics industries, booming, good times are taken for granted.

Look at the strong spots instead of the soft ones and the nation's economy rarely seemed healthier. The total dollar value of the nation's output of goods and services is running close to a record 400 billion dollars a year.

Personal income is running around 317 billion dollars a year (and people are spending around 280 billions of it promptly). Business is putting out around 62 billion, 35 billion of it for new plant and equipment). Federal, state

Degree By Degrees

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Philip John Mazzotti isn't a slow learner, despite the fact he required 24 full semesters and one summer school to win his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

He had almost a straight-A average during the 15 1/2 years since he enrolled.

Except for one semester in 1941 and a three-year tour of active duty with the Army Air Force during World War II, Mazzotti has been in class every semester. He's held a job, moving from draftsman to chief engineer while a student in one or two courses per semester in night school.

The three-mile-limit of control of oceans around a nation is being widely challenged today, says the National Geographic Society.

and local government spending comes to 77 billion. Each category is above the last year spending rate.

Retail trade, with the exception of the auto and farm equipment and to some extent the appliance dealers, is mostly higher than a year ago.

Home building is down in unit volume but total expenditures are as high or higher than last year. A boom in commercial and industrial building is bringing the grand total for construction close to 45 billion dollars for the year, to top last year's 43 billion.

Industrial output holds above the year ago mark, in spite of the drop in autos. Steel, which produced a record 117 million tons last year, is resigned to a slowdown this summer. Oilmen in California talk of a five per cent increase this year in the nation's demand and in production. The once ailing coal industry has found a big market in Europe, along with the big demand from the steel mills.

There are some big question marks for business in the weeks just ahead but confidence in the long pull seems unshaken.

Award Paul England For Safe Driving

Pic. Paul J. England, son of Mrs. Nellie England, Warsaw, recently received a Seventh Army safety driver award in Germany while serving with the 73d Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion.

England won the battalion award for driving military vehicles without an accident or traffic violation. England is an air observer in the battalion. He entered the Army in December, 1934, and received basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He arrived in Europe in May, 1935.

England is a 1934 graduate of Warsaw High School. He was an employee of the Luce Suitcase Factory in Kansas City. England's father, Boyd England, lives in Washington.

Humane Society Uses Tattoo on Animals

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore County Humane Society is acquiring a tattooing outfit as a means of solving the stray dog and cat problem.

A tattoo of a letter and number will be applied indelibly in the animal's ear, and the number will be filed at the county shelter as a permanent record. In this way, the society hopes to reduce the load of unidentified animals on its hands. So far this year the society has received more than 7,000 dogs and cats.

Local anaesthesia will be applied before the tattoo goes on.

Aviation Pioneer Says He Won't Make Sales of Equipment to the Soviet Union

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—William P. Lear, who kicked up an international fuss after becoming the first American to fly his own plane to Moscow, is an aviation pioneer who parlayed energy and ideas into a 60-million-dollar business.

The outspoken industrialist has the reputation of being an inventive genius with the drive of a super salesman. "If I were alive 100 years from now," he once said, "it wouldn't surprise me to be able to televise my entire body through the air by electronic waves."

This startling statement is typical, yet Lear is not exactly a visionary. At 54 he is chairman of the board of Lear, Inc., which he established in 1930 and since has built into one of the main suppliers of electronic and mechanical gear for American planes. His firm makes 500 separate items.

When Lear flew his five-place private plane to Moscow Tuesday, he said his electronic equipment was "extremely" new to the Russians. He was quoted as saying he expects NATO embargoes on trade with the Communists to be lifted soon.

This brought the comment from his company here that the equipment in the plane is "entirely civilian commercial equipment that anybody can buy and place in the free world through any of the Lear distributors."

Company President Richard M. Mock added that no sales have been made in Russia and no sales will be made. Mock termed Lear's visit "strictly a pleasure trip."

Lear himself said last night in Moscow that he had no intention of selling any of his company's equipment to the Soviet Union. He was summoned to the American Embassy for a talk with U.S. Minister Walter W. Wines, but he declined afterward to discuss their conversation.

No desk man, and no idle traveler either, Lear acts as test pilot to evaluate nearly every device his firm perfects. And he spans the world in his private plane to plug his products.

He is famed within the aviation industry as the creator of small black devices that automatically land, in the foulest weather, any plane on which they are installed from tiny private jobs to the latest jets.

Perfection of this equipment for jets won him the Collier Trophy in 1950, at the height of the Korean conflict, when it was considered a boon to fighter pilots. President Truman himself made the presentation.

Lear, Inc., developed the first automatic pilot for small private planes. The firm also builds an automatic radio direction finder which the company says is specifically adapted to the European market.

A man of limited formal education—he finally finished high school in Tulsa, Okla., "where I did four years' work in two semesters"—Lear moved about restlessly in earlier years. At 16 he was a veteran of World War Navy service as a radio operator. He gave up the Navy upon deciding that it would "take too long to become an admiral."

Thereafter he embarked on a career of selling his ideas to the highest bidder. Once he worked briefly for Radio Corp. of America as a consultant for $25,000 a year, plus $15,000 engineering fee. This he also gave up.

"I didn't want to be hog-tied," he explained, "I didn't want any man or anything for a boss."

Abandoned even earlier were post-school jobs in radio and as a garage mechanic. But it was in those days that he learned to fly, in war surplus Jennies. This set the pattern for his ultimate career.

He hit the jackpot financially when he began to invent radio gadgets. The first was a standardized frequency amplifier. Over the years there were scores of others—an auto radio, a direction finder, navigational aids.

But not all his inventions are in the transportation field. One is a device that whispers confidentially to housewives in stores, urging them to buy certain brands.

His present company centers about 92 per cent of its activity on government production, yet Lear holds that the future of aviation rests with the business airplane. Last September he established his personal headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland. His wife Moya, daughter of Ole Olsen of the "Hellsing" comedy team, and the four Lear children live there with him.

Lear recently hired ex-King Michael of Romania to head his European sales staff. His son William Lear Jr. is manager. Corporate headquarters, however, are here because the elder Lear likes the climate. He still has a home here. The firm's principal manufacturing plant is at Grand Rapids, Mich. Another plant is in Elyria, Ohio.

A man of varied interests is this Chicago-reared boy from Hannibal, Mo. He prides himself as a broker of steaks, hunting the Lost Dutchman gold mine in Arizona is one of his hobbies. He owns oil wells in Texas. And, sometimes, he even writes poetry.

Mrs. William Edwin Bock

Miss Alberta Lane Pledges Vows with William Edwin Bock

Miss Alberta Ruth Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Lane, Route 4, and William Edwin Bock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Stalson, Glendale, Calif., pledged wedding vows at the Camp Branch Baptist Church at 2:30 with the Rev. E. O. Farier, pastor, performing the ceremony before an altar setting of palms, baskets of white and pink gladioli, and candelabra with white tapers.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Robert Crouch played a selection of wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Marion Edmondson who sang "One Alone" and "Because."

Mrs. Richard Warren, Kansas City, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Stephens, wearing pale pink ballerina length gowns with white floral design in background, lighted the candles. They were wrist corsages of pink and white carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white floral nylon over taffeta, styled with a round scoop neckline, three-quarter length fitted sleeves, a long fitted bodice coming to a point in front, and a bridal peak in back, and a very full skirt of unpressed pleats. A halo type head piece of white flowers held a shoulder length veil. She wore a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a spray type bouquet of white carnations and white satin streamers.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William Leicher, sister of the bride, who wore a dress of yellow nylon over yellow taffeta, floral design in background of tiny pink roses. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and white satin streamers.

The past year the bride has been employed at the Bank of America in Glendale. The bridegroom is a student, majoring in accounting.

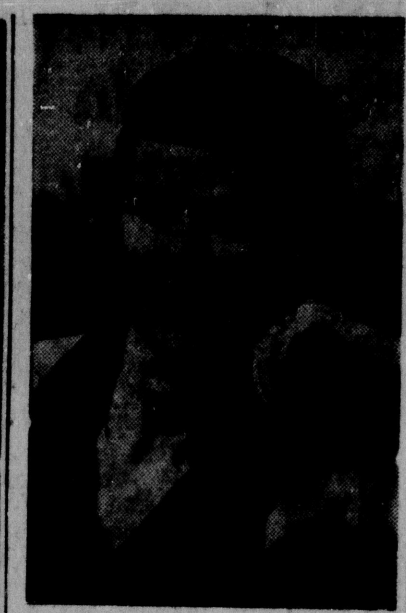

Mrs. J. D. Byrnes

Miss Marian Chapman Exchanges Wedding Vows with J. D. Byrnes

Miss Marian Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Chapman, Tipton, became the bride of J. D. Byrnes, son of Mrs. C. L. Homan of Sedalia, Sunday, June 3 at one o'clock at the First Christian Church.

The wedding march was played by Miss Kay Billingsley. Mrs. Stanley Ferguson sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and while the couple was kneeling at the altar she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of lace and net over satin with a scoop neckline, short sleeves and elbow length lace mitts coming to a point over the hands. Her veil was fingertip with a crown set with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and carnations on a white Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lumpe, Cole Camp, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Martha Ann, to Robert Owens, son of Mrs. Dora Owens, Cole Camp. The wedding is planned for Aug. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Wodicka, Broadway Arms, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joan, to L. (ig) Bernard J. Judge, USN Reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney J. Judge, Kansas City. The wedding is to be August 18 at Sacred Heart Church.

Mrs. Hubert Duggins, 1120 East 15th, and Jacob Ryan, Manitowish Waters, Wis., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Alice, to the Rev. Doyle Ross Mabry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mabry, 2107 South Missouri.

Mrs. H. D. Chapman was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue lace and net over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Wolf and Mrs. Clayton Young. They wore identical dresses of blue lace and net over taffeta, with blue accessories and carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations.

Kenneth Ash acted as best man. Groomsman were Doyle Ward and Bob Harper.

Ring bearer was Billy Bob Long. The bride's mother wore a beige linen dress with brown accessories and wore a corsage of red carnations. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the church. The table was covered with a lace table cloth with white gladioli, larkspur and ferns as the centerpiece and red rose buds forming a line from the cake to the centerpiece. Misses Wanda Verlinde, Mary Margaret Knipp, Mary Lou Lang and Kay Green served, assisted by Mrs. Clay Howard, Mrs. Freda Stroup, Mrs. William Green and Mrs. M. C. Steele. Mrs. Doyle Ward was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Tippecanoe High School and the groom is a graduate of Sedalia High School and has completed three years in the United States Navy. They will reside in Sedalia at 302 1/2 South Grand.

Among the out-of-town guests was a sister of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Steele of Bavia, N.Y.

Just As Much Fun, Too!—

Sedalia Brownie Scouts Hold Camp Like Girl Scouts

The past week the Brownies of Sedalia have been in camp for four days of the week. At Hubbard and Sakajawea the young girls have been working hard on crafts and scout camping during this camp time.

The Brownie Day Camp at Sakajawea began Monday with the raising of the United States flag and ended each day with the lowering of the flag. That day camp was under the directorship of Mrs. Elmo Harlan and her assistant, Mrs. Floyd Kearns. Mrs. Mary Houston, well-known in scout work, the office secretary, helped with the Brownie Camp as well as the camp the week before.

The girls made articles of handicraft with the help of their leaders. Some of the articles they made were: hot dish mats, made with jar rubbers and rug yarns; bracelets of plastic and leather; bud vases, made from bottles and crepe paper raffia and even a few leather purses.

Each girl brought her own lunch each day and ate with her unit. The average attendance was 75 girls per day. They had a rest period after lunch.

Flag-raising and lowering was somewhat put to a standstill during the course of the camp, the rope on the flag mast broke at the top and there was no way to raise the flag to the height of the pole. Being Brownie Scouts, however, the girls devised a way to give allegiance to a flag even though it was a very small one on a stick.

Leaders assisting the day camp were: Mrs. Lorraine Wear, Mrs. P. A. Sillers, Mrs. Paul Hausman, Mrs. Forest Yoder, Mrs. Harold Baudendistel, Mrs. E. D. Osbourne, Mrs. Roger Fuller, Mrs. Wanda Vaughn, Mrs. Rowels, Mrs. Bryan Shoemaker, Mrs. Bill Renfrow, Mrs. Ed Christian, Mrs. Glen Reyner, Mrs. Ralph Hamlin, Mrs. Betty Welding, Mrs. Marge Dalby, and Mrs. Leonard Woolery.

At the Hubbard Brownie Day Camp, number 55, Mrs. Orlander Black was the day camp director of the camp which was held each day in Hubbard Park. The girls enjoyed handicraft and scout training each day for the four days in camp.

Each day after their flag ceremony, they worked on handicraft and scout camping until lunch time when they prepared for the noon meal. After cleaning up from their meal, they had a rest period and story-telling. The Brownie Promise and taps closed their day of camp.

In camp with Mrs. Black were: Sebdella Perry, Ada Mae Blackshear, Loraine Davis, Constance Christian, Mary Sue Bishop, Charlotte Lewis, Sharon Kitchen, Betty Lou Blackshear, Brenda Blackshear, Zula Mae Wilson, Pauletta Jones, and the leader, Mrs. Orlander Black.

Mrs. P. Cecil Owens was the official camp visitor for both Brownie Day Camps. She inspected the camp to see if it were up with national standards and then sent the report into national headquarters.

Not Restricted Menu— Atomic Radioactive Grass Eaten by English Animals

By FRANK CAREY AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—English cows have eaten grass sprinkled with radioactive elements released in atom bomb tests in faraway Nevada.

While stressing that such a radioactive menu—not restricted to cows in Britain alone—is far from being at any danger point at this time, the National Academy of Sciences mentions it to emphasize this point:

"The sea, the air and plants and animals hold the answers to some of the still-unsolved radiation safety problems."

"We had better be ready with the answers," the academy adds. So far, says this group of eminent scientists, only relatively small amounts of radiation have been released. And, on the whole, it says, things have gone well from the safety standpoint—both in controlling release and applying protection measures.

But the academy says time is running out for obtaining new knowledge to assure maximum protection against increased hazards expected in the next two decades as atomic power plants spring up.

It also mentioned the "continuation" of H-bomb tests, but offered no estimates of how long they would go on.

The job of coming up with answers calls for the combined efforts of weathermen, oceanographers, agricultural scientists and experts in the disposal of radioactive wastes, the academy says.

The academy, in its recent report on hazards inherent in radiation of any kind, listed radiation from atomic bomb tests, nuclear power plants, medical X-rays, and from naturally radioactive materials in the ground and atmosphere.

Elsewhere in its report, the academy said there is a need for greater technical improvements to assure against serious—and conceivably even catastrophic—accidental releases of radioactivity from atomic reactors. Present reactor safeguards have had a very fine record, but protective measures could stand improvement, the report said.

Concerning radiation once released—whether from reactors, reactor waste or "garbage"—the academy said this:

Between the potential sources of man-made radiation and the people of the world there's a vast complex "connecting network" of air, water, and the plant and animal life which form the links in the chain of our food supply.

The scientists said: "English grass has been sprinkled with (radioactive) strontium from Nevada. And English cows have eaten it. Plankton in the North Sea has very likely taken up some of the radioactivity being dumped there from a British atomic reactor. Where did the ocean currents then carry this plankton? What fish fed on it? Who ate the fish?"

In stressing the need for more research on the workings of the radiation-bearing "network," the academy said:

"We must know more about how the winds or the ocean currents move, how plants and animals may concentrate radioactivity and transport it from one place to another."

"There is still time to find out but not very much."

"The amount of man-made radiation that has been put into our surroundings so far is, from almost every point of view, probably negligible."

"But the testing of megaton (million-ton) weapons continues. In the next couple of decades the atomic power industry will mature and the question of what to do with almost unthinkable quantities of radioactive waste products will be upon us."

"We had better be ready with the answers."

Odds and Ends By News Staff

FIFTEEN JAYCEES AND their wives attended the convention in Kansas City and one of the Jaycees was well on the way up there when he happened to notice he had forgotten his shoes. There he was driving gayly along the highway with his house shoes on. He debated for awhile on what to do. Would they turn back and get his shoes or would they go on to Kansas City where he would buy a new pair? He decided on the new pair and that certainly was the wrong decision. A convention is no place to break in a new pair of shoes, so he found out.

All during the convention he tried to burn rides, and it didn't make any difference to him whom he asked for a ride or what they were riding in. That distance from the Pickwick Hotel, where the Missouri delegation was staying, was just too far from the auditorium to walk in those new shoes.

It was a little something unexpected to the motorcycle policeman to have the young man with the new shoes rush out to him and ask him to give him a lift back to the hotel. The policeman looked at him, realized he was a Jaycee wearing a mule-eared hat and knew there was no use trying to argue with a mule, so he consented to take him to the hotel. The Sedalia got on and rode to the hotel and made a friend of the policeman. Either that or the cop just felt sorry about the new shoes. Anyway, another time when the Sedalia started for the auditorium from the hotel, the same policeman offered him another ride and extended the invitation as well to the Sedalia with him. This proved quite an experience for the Sedalia Jaycees. The motorcycle wasn't the roughest vehicle they had ever ridden on and they didn't have much to hold on to, either. The cop started his motorcycle and away they went with a speed they hadn't expected, through red lights with the siren blowing full blast. They thanked the cop when they got off—and that wasn't all, they thanked the Lord, too, that they got there safely.

Somehow or other this isn't exactly the type fellow you would expect to be out burning rides and especially the type conveyances he chose but burning shoes will do a lot to a person. The next thing he did was hail a fire truck. Of course, the fire truck surely wasn't on its way to a fire, or maybe the fireman saw that his feet were burning up in the new shoes and felt it was their duty to give him a lift. The fire truck stopped and the Sedalia climbed on and rode back to the hotel.

Right after the parade the Sedalia delegation all got together and went to a restaurant to have dinner. When the hostess saw how many were in the group, she gave them a private dining room which was air-conditioned and without windows. They had a big time eating and talking. It was really the first time all of them had been together and it was quite an affair.

While they were in the storm broke in Kansas City which was a bit worse than the Jaycee convention, but the air conditioner was going full blast and so were the tongues of the Jaycees and Jaycees in the room, so they didn't know anything about it. As far as they were concerned it had just rained while they were in the restaurant and was still raining when they got out. They couldn't walk in the rain, and the fellow with the new shoes couldn't walk, rain or no rain, so he began to walk for the first kind of something to go by that would take them back to the hotel. When it came it was a beer wagon, an empty beer wagon. Out he went and stopped the beer wagon, telling the driver of their

Last of Garden Tour Series—

Club Members Visit Koenig, Johnson and Seifert Gardens

The last three of the gardens visited recently by members of the Sedalia Garden Clubs were Mrs. Herbert Seifert, 1701 West 11th, Mrs. F. W. Koenig, 1015 West Broadway, and Mrs. J. D. Johnson, 1816 West Sixth.

Separating the back yard from the front on the south of the house which sits at an angle is a white fence against which are Fashion roses that may be seen from the street. There is a rather large pine tree and evergreens near the fence, too, and around the house pink petunias and miniature roses.

Inside the fence is a well-kept border in which there are shrubs and trees and many lovely perennials along the south side of the yard which ends with an inviting, restful spot of shade with garden furniture where the south border is joined with the west border of roses. There are many roses in the Seifert yard, because they are rose growers and know exactly how to care for these beautiful plants that give so much show but require a great deal of attention.

Along the south border are lilies, perennial phlox, bells of Ireland, a mimosa tree, annual phlox and many other kinds of flowers.

At the front of the house is a patio around which is a white fence. This is a shady spot where grow the broadleaf ferns, hardy begonia, hydrangea, pansies and the masses of dark green ivy with its attractive leaves growing everywhere. Pink roses grow around the patio fence.

This is the place that the Seiferts like best. Here they like to sit in the evenings and relax and to entertain guests who come to call.

Mrs. Koenig's garden is one that many people have seen and admired driving along Stewart onto Broadway, for the garden of gay colors may be seen through the fence. The wide border goes halfway to a high white lattice work plight. The driver opened up the back and in climbed the 16 Jaycees and their wives, who were taken to the hotel in real style in the beer wagon.

Well, it is nice to be home again. It was a lot of fun, but it is always nice to get home and to the man with the new shoes it was a glorious thing to find his old shoes just where he had left them. He never saw anything that looked so good.

LOST IN ONE of the big stores in Kansas City, four-year-old Keith didn't know what to do—so he cried. One of the clerks in the store took him over and tried to pacify him.

"What is your name?" she asked.

"Tommy," sobbed the child. He kept crying and she kept talking until finally his mother came by. He was so glad to see her—and so was the clerk.

"He told me his name is Tommy," said the clerk in the way of conversation to the mother.

The mother looked at her small son and questioned: "Why did you tell her your name was Tommy?" she asked.

Keith looked up at her now, all smiles. "I just wanted to tease her," he replied.—H. L.

and an arbor which leads to a vegetable garden and of course more roses and flowers.

Tall aquilegia grows in the border, a gorgeous one of pure white. There are sweetpeas along the fence, airy white baby's breath, blue flax and the soft leaves of the kitten ear that has a purplish bloom. Coral bells and pinks and tall stately regal lilies. Across the arbor are roses, red roses, pink roses and the Golden Sunset with its long buds of deep yellow that open into a very light yellow rose.

There are crabapples on the little flowering crab and beautiful rose beds in front of the arbor. In one of the absolutely weedless beds is a strong and healthy marigold plant.

"How," questioned a visitor to the garden, "did this get here?"

Mrs. Koenig laughed. "I'm going to pull it up," she said, but evidently she had not yet had the heart to do so, she had carefully weeded around it and left it standing there among the roses.

When someone asked Mrs. Koenig how she grew such beautiful flowers, she said you have to learn from experience. "I find," she added, "that you can't always go by books and articles—they don't seem to apply to every garden, so you have to know your own and how and where flowers do the best."

Along the walk up to the house are two very long wide beds of roses of all types and every color imaginable.

There are flowers all around the house and a purple clematis in full bloom climbing up the antenna.

The specialty of Mrs. Johnson seems to be roses, with a bed in bloom at the front of her house. There are shrubs and evergreen in front and around the house and big chrysanthemum plants along the west side.

In the backyard is a very beautiful tree and a ditch that runs at the end of the lot is bordered with annuals and perennials. Particularly pretty are her dark red and pink carnations and double pinks. There are rows of sinias and marigolds that will make quite a display just a bit later.

There are snapdragons, too, and a vegetable garden.

The gardens visited by the garden club women are really very lovely. They all show the ideas of the people who live there and their favorites in flowers. Every garden is different, and while most of them seem to have roses, the perennials and annuals are of a wide variety. These gardens all plainly show what it takes to make a garden, a lot of time and hard work, but what dividends they pay!

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A controversy exists over whether men should be arrested and fined for not wearing beards in observance of the 250th anniversary celebration.

William Gould, who is against compulsory growing of beards, suggests a police car should follow the 250th celebration "Kangaroo Court" on its rounds to pick up nonbearded citizens. He wants it to answer calls for help from citizens who don't want to be molested.

Truman Meets Harriman At Breakfast

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman had breakfast today with Gov. Averell Harriman, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, and said afterward "We did not discuss candidates."

"We talked about everything under the sun—my trip to Europe, the forthcoming Democratic convention, the welfare of the country and the welfare of the world," Truman said.

"We also discussed the forthcoming Democratic victory in November," Harriman said.

On his customary morning walk before breakfast, Truman reiterated his intention to remain neutral in the Adlai E. Stevenson-Harriman rivalry for the nomination.

The statement was in response to a question on his attitude toward the possible candidacy of Sen. Stuart W. Symington of Missouri for the Democratic nomination.

"I'm in the same position as with Harriman and Stevenson; I want to remain neutral," Truman said.

In reply to another question he remarked that he had said in Europe that "I was very happy when Sen. Kefauver was defeated in California."

"I have an inclination toward somebody else besides Kefauver," Truman said after breakfast. "But I don't like to discuss it because he (Kefauver) might be nominated and I would have to support him."

Harriman remarked that "I have never said anything against any of the candidates. Some Democrats are not my kind of Democrats, but Stevenson and Kefauver are my kind."

Truman said he probably would meet with Stevenson later in Chicago.

"Gov. Harriman and I have been the closest of friends since I was vice president," Truman said. "Mr. Stevenson and I have been close friends since he was governor of Illinois."

Truman earlier said he and Harriman are not "plotting" to keep Stevenson from getting the nomination, that he will not try to boss the convention and that he does not want to be the keynote speaker.

Paul Neckerman And Horse Killed By Lightning

Paul Eugene Neckerman, 16, Pilot Grove, and a horse he was riding at the Gilbert Shannon farm five miles south of Boonville about 4 p. m. Tuesday were both killed when struck by lightning. An accompanying rider on another horse, Donald, a son of Mr. Shannon, was knocked to the ground as was his mount both being stunned but soon recovered composure and were uninjured aside from shock.

The young man losing his life was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neckerman, Pilot Grove, and was born April 26, 1938. He attended St. Joseph's High School at Boonville after his elementary education and St. John's Seminary, Kansas City.

Surviving him besides his parents is a sister, Mrs. John McShane, who is with her husband in Germany while he is serving in the U.S. armed forces.

The body was taken to the Hays-Painter Funeral Chapel, Pilot Grove, where the rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Thursday. It will remain there until time for funeral services at St. Joseph's Catholic Church at 9 a. m. Friday, the pastor, the Rev. William Harris, to officiate.

Pallbearers will be classmates four students at St. John's Seminary: John Fischer and Eddie Schmidt, Tipton; John Bestgen, St. Joseph; Donald Sommer, Pilot Grove; Donald Shannon and Glen Lammers, when he was in Catholic school at Boonville.

Burial will be in St. Joseph's Church Cemetery.

Discloses New Evidence In Gun Deaths

STILLWELL, Okla. (AP)—A witness to Tuesday's unexplained gunfight to the death between two eastern Oklahoma political rivals disclosed he overheard one of the men accuse the other of "breaking up his home."

The new witness, uncovered today, was Dave Kirby, a 61-year-old nightwatchman at nearby Westville, home of Bob Alberty, 32, killed in the quick-draw exchange of gunfire with Adair County Sheriff Chester Crittenden, 51. Each was married and had two children.

Investigators first believed the only witness to the affray had been the jailer, Ike Martin Jr., 25, who was standing alongside Crittenden when he was felled by slugs from Alberty's pistol.

Kirby said today he rode to Stillwell with Alberty to inquire about election returns. He said he and Alberty were standing talking with two men when Crittenden drove up.

"He came over to where we were and Ches commenced cursing and claimed Bob was breaking up his home. Ches said Bob had been lying on him and wrecking his home," Kirby related.

The watchman said Crittenden then told Alberty to come along, that he was taking him to jail. "Bob never refused going. He just went along," Kirby said.

Kirby said a man named J. D. Burnett told the sheriff that Alberty was in jail with a gun.

Kirby said the sheriff declared "Well, let's go up there and see." Kirby said he entered the jail with Crittenden and as the sheriff passed the kitchen door the shooting started.

"I couldn't say who shot first," Returns in the contest for the office of sheriff showed Alberty with 1,646 votes to Crittenden's 1,222 in Tuesday's election. Two other candidates, Ed Dudley had 178 votes and George Asbell had 129.

Accident Hurts Kansas City OD Early Thursday

One man was severely injured about 2:45 a. m. Thursday four miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65 in a single car accident which occurred on the Meyer Junkyard curve. Injured was James Crittenden, 46, osteopath, Kansas City, who was driving alone at the time of the accident.

The accident occurred as Crittenden apparently fell asleep at the wheel losing control of the car, a 1955 Lincoln hardtop. The car skidded sideways over the roadway, crossed a small road and landed in a ditch against a tree. The tree nearly ripped the car apart just behind the right front wheel.

Crittenden was taken to the Woodland Hospital by Ray Gibson of Delaware, Okla., who was passing by at the time of the crash. At the hospital Dr. G. A. Walker treated Crittenden, who received two fractured ribs, fractures of the right wrist, right arm cuts, a head injury, and cuts and bruises to the back and hips.

The Chamberlin wrecker went to the scene to tow the car back to Sedalia. An iron bar was used to pry the car from the tree on which it was resting.

The car was completely demolished.

State Trooper Stohr investigated the accident at the scene.

Woman Dies of Heart Attack While Driving

PIEDMONT, Mo. (AP)—Miss Mesie Astholz, 68, of Cape Girardeau collapsed and died at the wheel of her car yesterday and it plunged into a ditch.

A physician said Miss Astholz, a retired bank teller, died of a heart attack.

Miss Esther M. Foley and Mrs. Burewell Fox of Cape Girardeau, accompanying Miss Astholz to the Clearwater Lake for a holiday outing, escaped injury.

When Miss Astholz slumped over the wheel, Miss Foley grabbed it to avoid a collision with another car and the auto plunged down an embankment into the ditch.

No inquest was planned.
